

Daniels Says Sims Accepted British Views As Superior to Anything Proposed From America

NAVY SECRETARY ANSWERS SIMS

Says He Lacked Vision, Belittled Work of U. S. Navy in Contrast to British

Coveted British Decorations and Aspired to Become
Member of Admiralty

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Daniels before the senate investigating committee today made his long awaited reply to the criticisms of Rear Admiral Sims on the navy's part in the war.

He charged that Sims lacked vision, belittled the work of the American navy in contrast to the British, coveted British decorations and aspired to become a member of the British admiralty. He declared that officers supporting the Sims charges were largely "people with a grievance."

Testimony of other officers, in possession of first hand knowledge, Secretary Daniels testified, "should be accepted by all open-minded men as an absolute refutation of practically all of Admiral Sims' charges."

Sims, the secretary said, did not measure up to expectations in various ways, of which he mentioned six, as follows:

"He lacked vision to see that a great and new project to bar the submarines from their hunting grounds should be promptly adopted and carried out, no matter what the cost or how radical the departure from what ultra-prudent men regarded as impracticable."

WILL ACT ON WATER RATE INCREASE

The single is again set for the passage of an ordinance to increase water rates in Lowell and unless something unforeseen happens, the municipal council will take action to this effect at its regular weekly meeting tomorrow morning.

A 30 per cent. increase, as recommended by the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce, will be recommended by Commissioner John F. Salmon and the measure is expected to pass without serious opposition.

The commissioner had planned to ask the council to approve a 25 per cent. increase at its meeting last week, but owing to the fact that the chamber of commerce committee at that time had the matter under consideration, action was delayed as a matter of courtesy.

If the ordinance is passed tomorrow, new rates will not be effective until July 1.

MURDER TRIAL ENDS FLETCHER CASE IN CIVIL COURT

Mrs. Dosler Pleads Guilty of Killing Common Law Husband—Gets Four Years

DESMOND, N. M., May 10.—The case of Mrs. Maude Dosler, accused of murdering her common law husband, Capt. Waide Dosler, United States Medical Corps, came to a dramatic end yesterday, when District Judge Ryan accepted a plea to second degree murder and sentenced her to serve not less than three nor more than four years in the state penitentiary. It was the lightest penalty possible.

The plea came after the jury trying her had been dismissed. It was announced the jury was hopelessly divided.

Before sentence was pronounced, Judge Frank Dosler of Pasadena, Cal., former chief justice of the Kansas supreme court and father of the dead army officer, in a plea for clemency for Mrs. Dosler, declared his son was more guilty of wrong than she.

Captain Dosler was shot and killed in the room the couple occupied at a Columbus, N. M., hotel. After shooting the captain, the woman shot herself and is convalescing from the effects of a bullet wound in the breast.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE IS DISMISSED

As a result of the examination of Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith and the inquest made before Judge Pickman, the charge of manslaughter against Frederick E. Haines for causing the death of Miss Elita M. Aldrich in an auto accident on Merrimack street on April 10, was dismissed at today's session of police court. Judge Enright made the report that her death was not caused or contributed to by the criminal negligence of Frederick Haines or by the criminal negligence of any other person or persons.

Miss Aldrich, who was an employee of the A. G. Pollard company, left the store on Saturday evening, April 10, and attempted to cross Merrimack street previous to taking a Highland car, but after passing between two autos, which were parked by the sidewalk, she stepped in front of Haines' machine. The report states that the auto was going at the rate of about six miles per hour and that the driver put on the emergency brakes and that the wheels did not run over the body.

HURT IN ELEVATOR WELL
As a result of a fall in the elevator well of the Bay State Storage & Warehouse in Jackson street this morning, Harold Hayden, an employee of the store and residing in Golden Cove, Chestnut Street, is at the Lowell Corporation hospital suffering from a fracture of the left arm and a probable fracture of the skull. His condition is considered serious.

PROCLAMATION
The Salvation Army Needs Your Aid!
Give!

The Home Service Campaign of the Salvation Army opens in our city today, May 10, and will continue until May 20. The amount to be realized is $20,000. This campaign is a hearty commendation and appeal to our fellow citizens a generous and whole-hearted response to the appeal for funds.

The Salvation Army has earned the deep gratitude of the American people. Not alone for the heroic self-sacrifice cheerfully endured amid the horrors and sufferings of war, but for the beneficent and uplifting influences exerted for the betterment of humanity on the plains of peace as well. This noble organization is doing God's work upon earth faithfully and well. Yes, and our work too, which we always seem too busy or indifferent to give much time or thought to. Under the guidance of the Salvation Army our contributions will help along life's highway a human being with a soul to save and a right to live.

If as individuals we cannot do this work so urgent, and so necessary for the good of humanity in general, let us do it through the medium of the Salvation Army. They will do our work for us, and do it well. Do not wait for one of our public spirited citizens of the campaign committee to call upon you and solicit your contribution. Send it today to Julian B. Keyes, Treasurer, Campaign Headquarters, Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Merrimack St.

city have only the warmest interest for the work of the organization throughout the nation, the local end of the campaign is of peculiar interest inasmuch as half of the money raised here will go toward a fast-growing building fund, of which there is at present $25,000. Half of the remaining half secured will go to national headquarters.

NEWS OF THE DAY
IN POLICE COURT

Because the arresting officer did not wish to prosecute the case, Maurice Callahan and Thomas Quiley, both charged with drunkenness and assault on an officer, were let down with a $10 fine each in this morning's session of police court. Both men were drunk on Moody street Saturday night and when an officer interfered a scuffle ensued in which the patrolman received an injury to his eye and Quiley a laceration on his head. The counsel for the defense requested the court to give a suspended sentence, but the court instructed that such assault cases always merited a direct sentence. Upon the intervention of the officer, that he did not wish to prosecute, the court reluctantly levied a fine.

Joseph J. Boulanger, charged with cruelly beating a horse, was fined $10. Agent Richardson of the Humane society was the prosecuting officer and he testified that the defendant used a 3 by 4 piece of studding to abuse a certain horse. Examination of the studding showed that there were nails protruding from one end.

Fred Lavallee, brought in on continuance for the larceny of clothing and other articles from a lodging house on French street owned by one Leblanc, was fined $20. Lavallee came up from Lawrence, some time ago, engaged a room in this lodging house and during his stay borrowed money which he never returned and then unknown to anyone departed with goods belonging to the housekeeper. He returned to Lawrence, where he pawned the goods. Liboire Savagane, charged with the larceny of clothing and other articles of men's furnishings from Delor Rock, manager of a lodging house on Worth street, was held in $200 for tomorrow's session.

George L. Pickering, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor was given continuance until Saturday morning, May 15.

Wilfred L. Pigeon brought in on the same charge, on a plea of not guilty through his counsel, was given continuance to May 12.

Wadyslaw Taraszkewicz, charged with operating his auto while drunk, was also held over until May 15, as the counsel for the prosecution was not ready to go on with the trial. This makes the third continuance for this case, Taraszkewicz, it is alleged.

26 RADICALS ARE PLACED ON TRIAL

Charged With Conspiracy to Advocate Overthrow of
U. S. Government

Millionaire Sergeant-at-Arms of Communist Labor Convention Among Group

CHICAGO, May 10.—Twenty-six radicals who are said to have gathered here last September to form the communist labor party were placed on trial in criminal court today charged with conspiracy to advocate the overthrow of the United States government and with criminal syndicalism.

What effect Secretary of Labor Wilson's ruling that membership in the communist labor party did not constitute grounds for deportation, will have on the trial is problematical. The state contends it will have none as the defendants are American citizens charged with conspiracy.

The outstanding figure of the group in court today was William B. Lloyd, millionaire sergeant-at-arms of the communist labor convention. The son of the late Henry D. Lloyd, said to have been a rich Boston philanthropist, he is a close friend of William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, former secretary-general of the I.W.W.

It is estimated the trial will last three months. Selection of a jury is expected to take from four to six weeks, and to exhaust a venire of 1400 men, as each side will have 300 challenges.

Among the state witnesses will be Ole Hanson, former mayor of Seattle.

was drunk while operating his machine on Westford street one Sunday not long ago. At the junction of Smith and Westford streets, his machine collided with another, then glided into a second machine which in turn was pushed into a third machine. The machines damaged were operated by men by the names of Hill and Ames, both of this city.

George Burney, on parole from the state farm, was arrested on Broadway Saturday night for alleged assault. Although the officers claimed that Burney was drunk, the court ruled that since he was arrested for alleged assault no other charge could be forced. From the evidence it appeared that there had been some row, but the court found that Burney was the wrong man and that he would not have been arrested for drunkenness if the officers had not taken him in for assault. He was discharged. One first timer for drunkenness was put on probation for one month, another was released, and one woman drunk given continuance until Saturday morning.

Lyons, American restaurateur in Durango, Mexico was shot and killed late in April by Mexicans opposed to the Carranza administration, according to a story printed today by the Los Angeles Examiner. STEEL REPLACES WOOD

Old B. & M. Bridge Bows
to Father Time—Quick Reconstruction Work

The old wooden bridge over the Pawtucket canal at its junction with the Western canal in Dutton street, built some 50 years ago, is being torn down by employees of the Boston & Maine railroad to be replaced by a modern structure steel bridge. Men have been at work on the job since last Monday and will complete the work some day this week.

What skilled bridge builders can accomplish was demonstrated yesterday, when, between the hours of 6 a. m. the planking from the old bridge was ripped away, the rails torn off, one of the steel spans removed and a new one put in place. During the night the bridge was again in condition for the shifting of cars.

The new bridge will measure about 250 feet in length and will consist of eight steel spans ranging in length from 25 and 42 feet. All the steel work with the exception of the setting in of a short span, is completed and now the men are busy replanking the structure. The old steel spans, which were removed from one end of the bridge, will be shipped to Philadelphia, where they will be re-fabricated for smaller bridges. There are 20 men employed on the job.

RUNAWAY HORSE GETS BADLY MIXED UP

A big bay horse owned by a local news agency and hitched to a delivery wagon raised havoc in Merrimack street near the corner of Central street this forenoon, when after a wild race through Merrimack street it crashed into an automobile truck in front of Mitchell's tailor shop, ripping a mudguard from the machine, and driving pedestrians into doorways. There were several narrow escapes, but fortunately no one was injured.

The horse, which has broken away once or twice before, became frightened while in Merrimack street and started at breakneck speed towards Merrimack square. As it passed John street, Underlaker Joseph Albert, in an attempt to bring it to a stop, threw an automobile robe over its head, but the animal shook it off and continued its wild race, dodging between electric cars and automobiles. When the steed flashed by Traffic Officer Swankwick, the latter's attempts to stop it proved fruitless.

When the crash with the automobile truck occurred the horse was freed from the wagon, but was soon brought to a stop. The harness was damaged and the wagon shafts broken.

REBELS HOLD MEXICO CITY

Vera Cruz and Tampico Also Held by Revolutionists—
U. S. Warships off Coast

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, May 10.—Should President Carranza be captured by revolutionary troops, he must stand trial in the civil courts for any misdeeds of which he may have been guilty while chief executive, General P. Elias Calles, commander of revolting troops in the northwest announced today, if Carranza escaped from Mexico, the revolutionists would be pleased, however, Calles said.

Calles declared that as Mexico City was in the hands of the revolutionists, troops marching from Sonora to Juarez probably would be sent direct to Mexico City for garrison duty.

A provisional president would be named to serve until the election, he said, in accordance with the "plan of Agua Prieta."

Educated and qualified Mexicans in Mexican border states, where he declared living conditions were the best in the country as a result of the people coming into contact with American ideals and methods, would be put at the head of various government departments, he said. A plan for establishing schools and educating the people would be launched as soon as the revolution is settled.

PREPARATORY DRIVE FOR FIELD DAY

The first outdoor drill in preparation for field day, which this year falls on May 23, was held by high school boys this morning on the South common. The period extended from 8:20 until 9:40 o'clock when the regiment was marched back to the school and dismissed for regular classes. During the same hours the girls' battalions were drilled in the annex by Miss Leggat.

A feature of this year's field day program will be the calisthenic work of the boys of the freshman class, who are now obliged to spend one year in corrective exercises before entering the military organization of the school. Donald McIntyre put them through a vigorous course of sprouts today in preparation for their part of the program. Similar practice drill sessions will be held on Friday of this week and periodically thereafter until the 25th.

The unmarried women of St. Michael's parish closed their week's mission, given by the Dominican fathers, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the married women at 4. Kelleher, Ph.D., the pastor.

Rev. J. Heffernan was deacon and Rev. Peter T. Linehan, sub-deacon. Following the mass a procession of the children was held about the aisles of the church in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

HONORARY MEMBERS FOR BATTERY B

Lowell citizens very evidently intend to back up the new military combat unit which has been assigned here, Battery B of the 26th Division, for honorary memberships have started in with a rush from every section of Lowell.

The first list to join the honorary membership rolls of the new battery were: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Allan C. Sargent of Danville, Jude C. Wantelgh, Andrew E. Bosch, Representative Henry Achen, Humphrey O'Sullivan, Joseph A. Legare, James O'Sullivan, Michael J. Sharkey, Glen Gardner W. Pearson, Supt. Gerald Cahill of the United States Cartridge Co., Hon. Erson Barlow, James E. Lylo, Daniel Cosgrove, Capt. Joseph Milloy, Capt. Royal P. White, William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, and Henry McAlvin.

Continuing for the new battery will continue all this week and medical examinations will also probably start within a few days. Capt. MacBrayne is waiting to have officers of the medical department assigned for this work.

With the completion of the medical, the 121 men will be mastered into the service together. A smoker is planned for the night when this ceremony is to take place, and Major Thompson will be present to make a few remarks.

The official introduction of the battery to the citizens of Lowell will be made when the men are equipped with uniforms, and the first honorary hall will be given to honorary members and friends of the battery. Gov. Coolidge will attend this function, and the event will be a proud one in the history of the new battery.

Battery B will have a memorial at the armory on this same night in honor of the men who gave their lives in France.

Tuesday night is expected to be a banner night for enlisting and young men who intend to get into the battery are urged to do so at once in order that they may be sure of places.

Capt. Frank S. Perkins is expected to pay an early visit to Lowell to look things over.

Former members of Battery F are requested to attend a meeting Tuesday night of this week at the armory.

Members of Company K Associates are also requested to be present Tuesday night at Battery B headquarters to meet Lieut. McNamara, one of the new officers of the battery.

Ell Hart, former top sergeant of Company K, as well as several other men, have enlisted in the new battery.

WOMEN SPINNERS STRIKE

About a dozen women spinners employed at the Bost mills went out on strike this morning after being refused an increase in wages, so they claimed. The strikers also claimed that their machines were speeded too high and that the company refused to decrease the speed. Agent Thomas stated this noon that the speed matter was settled last Thursday and that the question of an increase in wages was being considered by the company.

TOO WEAK TO DO ANYTHING

A Serious Feminine Illness Remedied By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Caseo, Wis.—"After the birth of each of my children I had displacement and was too weak to do anything. I found a book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I thought I would try it, and after taking it I soon felt better. That was fifteen years ago and I have felt well ever since except that I had a slight attack of the trouble some time ago and took some more of your Compound and was soon all right again. I always recommend your medicine and you may publish my testimonial for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. J. B. Bess, Jr., R. 1, Box 83, Caseo, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female illness in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Mrs. Bess's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

THE ONE-MAN CAR IN THE MOVIES

As part of a program of education prior to the advent of the new one-man electric cars on the local division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. next Sunday, a motion picture film will be shown at the usual performances at H. F. Keith's theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Manager Pickett gladly consented to show the picture for Manager Thomas Lees of the Bay State division.

The picture in question has been shown in all cities on the system that have one-man cars in operation and it has been of great help in educating the public in the proper use of these latest traction features. The film takes about 15 minutes' time and shows the proper way to enter and leave one of the cars; how the car is controlled and many other details that people might be bothered with before the newness wears off.

Manager Lees received the film today from Salem where it was shown last week just prior to the operation of one-man cars there. The picture was shown in Lawrence week before last, as that city began to operate the new cars on Wednesday, May 5.

Will Launch Drive Tonight

Local headquarters with the balance remaining in Lowell to carry on the work for the current year.

In preparation for the local end of the campaign a systematic organization has been formed, headed by an executive drive committee, Dudley L. Page, chairman, and Hon. James B. Casey, vice chairman. This committee has met a number of times and has worked out an excellent plan of campaigning. Divisions and companies have been formed, industries have been listed and indexed, arrangements have been made for a great deal of personal solicitation and a house-to-house canvass will comb the city from end to end.

Tonight at the supper at 6:30 o'clock the drive will be officially launched to continue until the 20th. Optimism is everywhere apparent. The Salvation Army counts its friends by the thousands and there is a strong feeling that Lowell folks will not be content to simply raise its quota of $20,000. That is a small sum, indeed, as campaigns run nowadays. People are sick and tired of campaigns, it is said, but no apathy is apparent in relation to this one. Perhaps the war deeds of the army helped to win a latent realization of the tremendous amount of self-sacrificial work its members do in days of both war and peace.

The executive committee feels particularly fortunate in regard to tonight's meeting, in securing the services of Col. W. H. Jenkins of New York city as the principal speaker. Col. Jenkins is editor-in-chief of all Salvation Army publications and is expected to bring the torch which will allow the opening guns locally to boom out in a great salvo of enthusiasm.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will attend the luncheon to introduce Col. Perkins and speak a few words of endorsement of the campaign.

For several days a thorough system of publicity has been in force in the city. Merchants have co-operated with Louis Stedley, chairman of the advertising committee, and the result has been evident. Stickered adorn hundreds of automobile windshields and store windows and other prominent places carry the campaign slogan, "A Man May Be Down, But He Is Never Out."

ican destroyers were en route today to Mexican waters to await eventualities and to afford protection to American lives in the Mexican Gulf ports.

Official confirmation of the fall of the Mexican capital was received yesterday by the state department from the American embassy which reported there was no disorder incident to the transfer of authority. Tampico and Vera Cruz also were reported quiet.

The embassy's report made no mention of President Carranza and reports from Vera Cruz said that search in that city had failed to find him. One report was that he had been arrested in Esperanza, state of Vera Cruz, but this was without confirmation here either in official despatches or in advices to revolutionist agents.

Wholesale Slaughter

EL PASO, Tex., May 10.—General Francisco Murguía, Carranza military commander at Mexico City before leaving the capital which now is in complete possession of revolutionary forces, carried out a wholesale slaughter of political prisoners at Sanluis, the military prison, according to a bulletin issued at revolutionary headquarters here last night.

Fifteen Mexican generals were among those reported slaughtered. "The city was shocked over this bloody epilogue for the Carranza regime," the bulletin said.

Obregon in Control

WASHINGTON, May 10.—An official telegram from Vera Cruz received at the state department yesterday says a wireless message from Mexico City, announces that President Carranza left Mexico City and that General Obregon has taken complete possession of the city.

Carranza Hiding

GALVESTON, Tex., May 10.—The federal garrison at Vera Cruz, consisting of approximately 500 well-armed and equipped soldiers, went over to the revolutionists early yesterday, according to apparently reliable, but unofficial advices received here last night.

Presiding Carranza, the advices said, was hiding in Vera Cruz, and his arrest was momentarily expected. The report which came through what is considered a reliable source, said the revolutionary forces entered Vera Cruz and his arrest was momentarily expected. The report which came through what is considered a reliable source, said the revolutionary forces entered Vera Cruz late Saturday night, then retreated because of the presence in the harbor of Mexican gun boats. Late yesterday they again entered the city and began its occupation, the report said.

MANIAC SHOTS GIRL AND SETS FIRE TO HOUSES

BANGOR, Me., May 10.—George Stanchfield, 24, of Vezie, who was released on parole from the Bangor state hospital for the insane on April 25, terrorized this town early yesterday morning, burning property valued at $20,000 and $30,000 and attempting to kill Mary Louise Greenleaf, 26, with whom he had been keeping company. The girl was brought to the Eastern Maine hospital in Bangor where it is said that she will recover.

Stanchfield was captured in a barn in the outskirts of Vezie by a posse of citizens who were assisting Sheriff Fernandez in the search. He once escaped from his captors and threatened them with a shotgun, but later was taken in the nearby woods.

Stanchfield had been keeping company with the Greenleaf girl for two years, when, in the fall of 1918, Miss Greenleaf refused him admittance to the house because he was suffering from influenza. He took offense at this and the courtship was broken up.

Shortly before 1 o'clock two charges were fired from a shotgun through the lower bedroom of the house of Benjamin Greenleaf, half a mile distant from the scene of the fire, and Miss Greenleaf, who was asleep in bed with her mother, was struck by part of the first charge, the lower part of her left ear being torn away, her face furrowed and the mastoid bone fractured.

Suspicion at once fell upon Stanchfield and Sheriff Fernandez and posse, aided by citizens, began a search of the village and surrounding woods, resulting in his capture about 3 o'clock in a barn, where he had hidden in the hay. At the jail here he confessed to the sheriff that he had set the fires, and shot the Greenleaf girl, "because she went back on him."

ISSUES WARNING TO AUTO OWNERS

A warning to auto owners that they must not leave their machines on the streets unlighted at night has been issued by Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department. The owners of such unlighted machines at night will be arrested for obstructing the street and be subject to a fine.

The state law in this respect is that all vehicles parked on a street at night must have all their lights going, but the police have been and will be lenient and will require that the vehicles be partially lighted.

Supt. Welch said that one week would be allowed from this warning, but "after that time," he said, "I will instruct the police officers to insist upon the lighting of vehicles stopped on the streets at night and to take action if the owners refuse to comply."

The most practiced ear cannot distinguish in one second more than from nine to twelve successive sounds.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"

Presented by Young Women Under Auspices of Catholic Women's League

"Alice in Wonderland," a classic for ages among children's stories, was given a most enjoyable and artistic presentation at the Colonial Theatre in Middlesex street Saturday afternoon by a group of young women under the auspices of the League of Catholic Women. Despite the unfavorable weather, there was a capacity audience.

Saturday's presentation was the first in a series designed by the league to give the children of Lowell an opportunity to witness better class plays. So successful was "Alice in Wonderland" that there were many demands to have it repeated. This will probably be done in the near future.

Directed by Miss Anna Lee Maguire of the Emerson College of Oratory and enhanced by unusually pretty stage settings, the production was effective and enjoyable in every detail.

It was presented in four acts and before each act Miss V. Pearl Atkinson, also of the Emerson College of Oratory, read the story in a manner that helped to bring out the details and salient features of the plot. Her work added much to the success of the affair.

The play opened with "Alice," Miss Louise Mahoney, lying asleep on a grassy mound. A band of fairies, led by Miss Myrtle Rooney, danced about her and awoke her. Colored incandescents and an attractive setting made the scene most effective. Miss Grace Donehue received much applause for her singing of "Sleep, Alice Sleep." In this scene, after she had awakened, Alice followed the white rabbit, played by Miss Georgianna Keith, to Wonderland. Miss Donehue as the "black cat" was most amusing.

The second act had to do with the mad tea party in Wonderland. Miss Dorothy McAdams as the dormouse was well received in this act and Miss Agnes Maher as the mad hatter contributed materially to the fun.

The third act was staged in the court of the king and queen of Wonderland whose parts were taken by Miss Katherine Farley and Miss Isabel McQuade, respectively. Miss Lillian Burns as the knave of hearts, Miss Rose D. Leary as the duchess and Miss May Burns as the cook also scored heavily. Miss Rose Geary as the mock turtle and Miss Maguire as the gryphon danced together. The court scene was most effective.

The final scene showed Alice again asleep and this time a group of fairies, led by Miss Dorris Conley, danced around her and brought her back from her dream of wonderland. Miss Conley's solo dance in this act was well received. Miss Dorris Handley as the march hare is also deserving of commendation for her handling of that part. Miss Gertrude Swaneey as the executioner and Miss Frances O'Brien and Miss Margaret M. Fowright as guards demonstrated real ability in their parts.

While it would be almost impossible to choose any one character for special mention, if justice were to be done the entire cast, nevertheless, the opportunities afforded by the title role of "Alice" gave Miss Louise Mahoney a chance again to demonstrate exceptional talent for an amateur. Her work was pleasing throughout the entire production.

Miss Myrtle Rooney who directed the dancing of the fairies is also worthy of great credit for her part in the success of the occasion. The dancing proved one of the prettiest features of the production and the children who took part showed the result of exchange again gave distinct pleasure.

Miss Maguire as director of the play demonstrated marked ability and gave indications of a most successful career in this line if she chooses to follow it. The league orchestra, under the direction of Miss Marie J. C. O'Donnell, furnished music for the occasion and again gave distinct pleasure.

The children who took the part of fairies in the production were the following: Esther Meloy, Pauline Meloy, Harriet Fierman, Helen Halloran, Dorris Conley, Rosalie Martin, Frances Prevost, Celine Hunt, Lillian Walsh.

DIED OF HIS WOUNDS

Second Victim of Boston Shooting Passes Away in Hospital

BOSTON, May 10.—William C. Sweeney, who was shot and wounded by Frank Mullen, a patrolman, when discovered apparently rifling a desk in a factory office Saturday night, died in a hospital today. Mullen shot and killed Sweeney's companion, Miles F. Dow.

According to Mullen and another officer who accompanied him, one of the men aimed a revolver at them when they switched on the lights and Mullen immediately discharged his own weapon. The police said that Sweeney made a statement before his death, but they declined to give any intimation as to its nature.

Red Blood for Pale People!

A big supply of red blood corpuscles is what helps to make any man or woman have a healthy, pink complexion and cherry red lips. Eosent to paint and powder are totally unnecessary and besides that are harmful. Three-grain hypo-nuclease tablets, if used regularly for several months, seem to create a greatly added number of millions to the red and white corpuscles of the blood, and not only improve the color, but add increased flesh to the thin and frail body. These tablets promote assimilation, absorption and digestion, and this splendid aid to nature's forces transforms the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physicians, but being of a perfectly harmless character, self-administration is being followed by many, who obtain them from any well-stocked grocery shop.

LITTLE CHANGE IN NEW BEDFORD MILL STRIKE

NEW BEDFORD, May 10.—The strike at 15 of the New Bedford textile corporations entered on its second week today, with little change in the situation. Labor leaders strengthened their picket lines of all the mills this morning but the manufacturers anticipate the return of a large number of operatives who were idle last week, building their hopes on the action of the firemen's union in repudiating the strike.

Although the yarn departments of the mills are operating with a fair percentage of the operatives at work, labor leaders declare that if the wearers hold firm for another week, the mills will be forced to close down.

AMERICAN LEGION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—Leo A. Spillane, state adjutant of the Massachusetts department of the American Legion, today announced the program to be carried out next week in the membership drive in which 72,000 new names must be added to the rolls if the movement is to be a success.

The drive is in conjunction with others being made in every state in the Union to increase the membership in the organization to 100 per cent. of those eligible. It will last from May 17 to 22. In Massachusetts, it is estimated, there are 193,000 men and women who saw service and of these 120,000 already are enrolled. Every one of the others, it is hoped, will be brought in.

The means to be used will be personal solicitation and publicity in each community under the direction of a "push" committee, consisting of five members. The president, the governor and the mayor of each city will be asked to issue a proclamation designating the period American Legion week.

Co-operation in the drive will be asked of the Red Cross, F.M.C.A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, War Camp Community Service and other organizations interested in the work. Posters and cards will be placed in the stores of the merchants. On the motion picture screen the invitation will be extended. Mass meetings will be held, and sermons from the pulpit will be employed. Women solicitors and, if possible, telephone girls will be at work will also aid the movement. A citizens' committee will co-operate with the "push" committee. This will consist of about 20 members and will include men and women representing every form of municipal or county activity. All walks of life will be represented.

In sending out the instructions, Adjutant Spillane says:

"Personal solicitation I look upon as the most efficacious method of making the drive a success. I want every post adjutant to impress upon the members that it is his business to make the push a success. Everybody should understand that publicity will accomplish nothing unless post members are out on the ground taking advantage of the publicity. It is up to the individual member to do his part and from what I have seen I think he will. I am sure that we will attain the end we are striving for. HOTT.

THE CRESCENT HILL ASSOCIATES

The Crescent Hill association, Inc., will repeat the successful minstrel show it staged recently on the afternoon and evening of May 23 at the Opera House. It was voted at a meeting of the organization, held last evening. Proceeds of the affair will go toward building of a clubhouse. Various routine matters were acted upon at last evening's meeting. Two applications for membership were received and referred to the investigating committee. The social committee reported that the recent minstrel show and dance was a complete success and the athletic committee indicated that the association will have a strong team on the diamond this summer. The annual election of officers of the association will be held Thursday, May 20.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS FOR THE FARMS

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—Governor Coolidge today asked every school superintendent in the state to co-operate with the department of agriculture in its efforts to add to the food supply through the employment of high school boys on farms, now that agricultural labor is so scarce.

The letter in which the request is made reads as follows:—

"The commissioner of agriculture could place hundreds of boys in good positions that would materially increase food production. Such boys would be placed upon farms or in farm camps under proper supervision, following the plan carried out by the Massachusetts committee on public safety during the war. I most earnestly urge your co-operation towards the securing of this important relief."

As indicated by the governor's letter, the youths either live on the farm at which they are employed or else form a part of a camp, working in the surrounding neighborhood. They are paid a wage that makes it well worth their while to engage in the work during their vacations.

In the summer of 1918, there were

2500 boys placed by the committee on school boys for farm service, a subordinate unit of the public safety committee. A total of 200 of the youths were placed in 20 camps in various sections of the state, the number in each camp ranging from 25 to 110. The work is in charge of Stephen R. Dow, who has been at its head since the undertaking was first started in 1917. Mr. Dow states that the demand for farm labor is more pressing now than during the war. He is confident that the results attained will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to the people.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL AT CRESCENT RINK

At a meeting of officials of the recent Irish bond drive held last evening in Hibernian hall plans were made for an athletic carnival at the Crescent rink on the evening of May 31. Well known local athletes will take part in a program of wrestling and boxing. Plans were also made for a testimonial to be given campaign workers in the near future.

The team captains and district chairmen present were instructed to see that outstanding pledges of the campaign are paid as promptly as possible. Subscribers may make their payments directly to the Lowell Trust Co. or to the chairman of their district.

The Call'em

Joe Woodman, who piloted Sam Langford for many years believes he has a contender for the welterweight championship in Harlem, Eddie Kelly of New York. The latter is in hard training for prospective bouts and while he has a chance to campaign in England and test his ability to meet the welterweight champion, he is holding off until he can get a definite reply from Jack Britton, the present titleholder.

An Undeclared Champion
Speaking of boxers, it is said that Benny Leonard has just about decided that he cannot longer make the lightweight limit and automatically passes into the welter division, where he will head for the title. If Benny really has left the ranks of the lightweight, he is a real contender for the title. Perhaps Woodman would do well to send Harlem Eddie Kelly against Leonard before he settles upon a definite answer from Britton.

Why Not Hire Johnny Everett?
Presumably to get a line on the strength of this year's Lowell high school nine, Coach Sledge, with four of his Lawrence high players, watched the Lowell-Cornell game at Springfield Park last Friday afternoon. Regular big league stuff, eh? If they were getting a line on Lowell's batting ability, they would be a very faint line, hardly discernible, in fact.

First—New College Sport
The first annual meet of the Intercollegiate Flying club is now history. Yale's aviators won by scoring nine points, three points more than the birdmen of Columbia totaled. Before the war, we may expect flashes over the wire saying "Yale beat Harvard at flying today, 10 to 5." Why not? The first intercollegiate meet has already been held and it is very probable that aviation will be placed upon the list of college sports, first as a minor and later as a major. Will colleges give letters to the team members? Perhaps life insurance policies will be substituted.

How About Getting Out an Extra?
When Wilde was described prior to his fight in Lawrence, or rather his romp against Bobby Lyson, energetic press agents said he was a second edition of Jim Briscoe. Now comes along Fred Jacks, English featherweight champion and also a second edition of the great Driscoll, but—and he sure to get the "but"—he can punch harder than Driscoll. There is a little mix-up here on two second editions, but perhaps Jacks would consent to be listed as a "third."

Something's Gone Wrong
In the American League at the present writing the first division holds two teams that were supposed to be there and two that were not. Experts said Chicago and Cleveland were favored entries, but Boston and Washington have done well if they didn't fall out of the league. The same holds true in the second division which holds New York and Detroit. The dogmats said they would be up in the third quarter. What's wrong? Is it too early to have the dope swing round, to its proper alignment or has it been upset by the steady play of the despised Red Sox?

SUNDAY SPORT

Watertown Pastor Favors Games on the Sabbath

WATERTOWN, May 10.—Rev. Henry H. B. Oxlby, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Episcopal), announced today that he would not object to the playing of Sunday baseball of the non-commercial sort. He hoped that the town would avail itself of the legislative authority to permit this amateur game.

Mr. Oxlby, who is a Boy Scout master and an enthusiastic advocate of outdoor sports, was preaching on the necessity for systematic rest and clean recreation and digressed to say:

"The question of Sunday baseball in this community may be decided soon. You have a right to know where your pastor stands in this matter. I am unqualifiedly in favor of Sunday baseball of a non-commercial and non-commercial character. I ardently hope that it will be legalized. In the first place, assuming as I do not admit that it is opposed to the teachings of Christianity, the church has a right to force the people to be religious. Membership in society implies an obligation to respect the rights of others, but it does not carry an obligation to conform one's conduct to tenet to which he may not subscribe."

SAYS EVERY REAL MAN LIKES TO SEE A FIGHT

CHICAGO, May 10.—Declaring that in "every real man there is the instinct to fight," Charles R. Brown, dean of the school of religion at Yale university, told the Sunday evening club last night that "for centuries men have been willing to pay more to see a good prize fight than for any other form of entertainment."

"I have always been interested in these contests," he continued. "I have never seen a pugilistic encounter, but from the days of Sullivan and Kilrain I have always been an interested reader of the paper the morning after they take place."

"I believe the man who denies the natural lure of a spirited conflict, whether between two men or two companies of men, or two great armies, is in some manner lacking. The fighting instinct is inherent in most of us in whom red blood still courses."

HORNSBY AND JACKSON LEADING BATTERS

CHICAGO, May 10.—Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, is showing the way to the batters of the National league with an average of .450, and Lebrun of Philadelphia .475 is runner up, according to averages including games of Wednesday.

Hornsby has been at bat 63 times in 15 games. He drove out 29 hits for a total of 38 runs. In this collection he batted six doubles and one home run. He has been showing much speed on the paths, having registered 12 runs.

Ed Roush of Cincinnati, who held the batting honors of the league last season, gradually is getting his stride. He batted his average to .262, 46 points within a week.

Robertson of Chicago leads in home runs with three.

Joe Jackson, the Chicago slugger, continues to top the batters in the American league who have participated in 10 or more games. There are three batters in the "400" class, headed by Jackson with .434; Johnston, Cleveland, with .408, and Weaver, Chicago 3rd, with .401. Scott of Boston has .325.

"Babe" Ruth of New York, celebrated his return to the game by hitting a line out two home runs. The home run king has a batting average of .261 for 13 games, having made 12 hits in 45 times at bat. His hits, besides the two home runs, include a triple and three doubles.

Ty Cobb, who held the batting championship last season, is rounding into form and has boosted his mark from .162 to .214 within a week.

THE THRILLS OF THE GARDENERS LIFE

The following article having to do with gardeners is contributed by the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics:

What thrills we are daily experiencing as we note that the seeds which we planted a short time ago are germinating and breaking through the surface of the ground! Cultivation should start in the garden as soon as the seedlings have come up sufficiently so that the rows can be seen. Cultivation should be frequent and thorough. The home gardener should stir the soil at least twice a week with a rake, hoe, or garden cultivator. One should aim to stir the soil after each rain. The ideal is blanket, or loose, dry soil upon the surface, commonly known as dust mulch. This dust mulch breaks up the capillary tubes and prevents the too rapid evaporation of the moisture in the soil. There probably will not be as much rainfall from now on as formerly. Therefore all good farmers and home gardeners will attempt to retain all the moisture possible in the soil, as sufficient moisture is as important a factor in successful gardening as is plant food. Weed seedlings also are killed by this frequent cultivation. They are eradicated very easily at this early stage of their growth. A week later and twice as much work will be necessary to accomplish the same result. Level cultivation should be practiced on all crops with the possible exception of those grown upon wet, heavy soil.

Lettuce and Cabbage Plants

Lettuce and cabbage plants can be purchased at many of the seed stores and nearby commercial gardeners. It is well to put in a limited amount of them at the present time so as to furnish an early crop before the plants wilt that are grown in the garden from seeds.

Transplanting

Many of the tomato plants and other plants being grown in the cold frame or seed box in the house are ready for transplanting. As soon as the third and fourth leaves make their appearance, transplanting should start. When transplanting, be careful not to disturb the root system. The small root hairs are very tender and should not be broken off any more than is necessary. A large amount of the dirt which adheres to the seedling should be taken up and moved with the plant. In order to have as much dirt adhere to the root system as possible the plants should be watered thoroughly a few hours before they are transplanted.

MILD BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was given in honor of Master James Williams on Friday evening at his home in 582 Lakeview avenue. During the evening the many friends and relatives present enjoyed themselves with games and violin selections. It was Master Williams' eleventh birthday. He received

"PAINLESS" GAVEL IS JUST THE THING!

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Vice President Marshall promises to use the anesthetic properties of his new "painless" gavel during further discussion in the senate on the League of Nations. He says it should render painless such operations as the senate may wish to make upon the body of the league and avoid the agonies of the recent debate. Because said gavel, presented to Marshall by Representative Thomas M. Bell of Georgia, was made from the famous mulberry tree in Jefferson county, Ga., under which Dr. Crawford Long performed the first painless surgical operation through the use of an anesthetic, March 30, 1812.

Senator Hiram Johnson says that the man who mentions him for the vice presidency is no friend of his. Has the senator so quickly forgotten the days when the vice presidential chair was the ultima thule of his political dreams?

Some people in Boston must have queer tastes, if it is true, as seems to be indicated by a recently enacted law, that workers in bakeries have been sleeping upon kneading boards with wads of dough as pillows.

A substantial prize ought to be offered to the person who will invent a method of making that Boston & Maine station tower clock comply with the law and at the same time point to the hours as they are reckoned in Lowell.

It ought to be about time to hear from that committee of distinguished citizens—men and women—who were selected by Chairman Hays a while ago to furnish "suggestions" for the republican platform. The waste basket is tired of yawning for those particular "suggestions."

The tenth annual report of the Boy Scouts shows that much has been accomplished by the Scouts in their good work for others; but the boys themselves have been the chief gainers. At present, the organization of Boy Scouts numbers 543,564 members and there are 135,524 Scout officials, committees and others helping in the good work. It is a splendid organization.

POLISH VICTORY

The friends of freedom will rejoice at the victories of the Poles and Ukrainians over the Bolsheviks in Russia. It is to be hoped that these two united nations, having just won their independence, will not incur the risk of losing it by advancing too far into the enemies' country. All they should do is to impress the followers of Trotsky and Lenin with their power by taking a few strongholds sufficient to enable them to repel future attacks.

A RETURN TO OLD METHODS

Lowell once had hundreds of corporation-owned homes. The mills then not only found a place for their employees to work in, but they supplied a place in which they could live.

It is interesting to note that there is now beginning in different parts of the country a return to the conditions of years ago. Big industrial corporations have begun to find out that the passing of anti-rent profiteering laws and attempts of philanthropists to provide homes for the people they employ, are not a pronounced success. Many men and women are being kept from work, and employers are held back from expanding their plants as they would like to, because sufficient housing accommodations are not available.

Several of the country's largest industries are, therefore, taking pattern after the methods of the government during the war and are erecting attractive, well-designed and thoroughly built homes for their workers, and are renting them at reasonable prices or selling them for payments on the installment plan. This has the appearance of a combination of business, common sense and a little practical philanthropy.

It may prove a potent factor in helping solve a problem that is a very real one and of grave importance in some parts of the country.

THE WATER RATES

We have now heard no less than three reports on the condition of the water department which should be enough to convince the public that in order to put the system on a paying basis, a material increase in rates is necessary, although the present rates are considered as high as they should be, under ordinary conditions. But it must be remembered that we have a very extensive system, one that will continually call for large expenditures, because the water must be pumped from the earth to the filtration plant, then to the Sixth street pumping station and thence to the reservoir. At all stages, the iron in the water is eating up the pipes, and the pumps, and this explains why we have to buy so many new pumps and why we have to renew our iron service pipes so frequently.

It would cost a large amount to connect us with the Clinton water supply, the reservoir of which is sufficiently high over our local elevations to give us ample water pressure in any part of the city. Thus, however, is a matter that will engage the attention of experts in the near future and what concerns us most at the present time is the new rates per 1000 feet of water. Commissioner Salmon felt that a change from 5000 feet at $8 to 6000 feet at $12 would bring the desired remedy. That would be an increase of 25 per cent, but the Chamber of Commerce thinks a 30 per cent increase is necessary. We are inclined to believe that the 25 per cent increase is as much as the people will stand at the present time. It means an increase of $5 per cent within three years. That with economy should bring the revenues back to what they should be.

FORTUNE TELLERS

Through some oversight on the part of the police, or perhaps because there is no law to fit the case, Lowell is just now the happy hunting ground of a considerable number of fortune tellers, second sight workers, seers and other public nuisances, to use the mildest descriptive term that seems available. Willin not much over half a mile of Merrimack square are at least a half dozen of them. They are usually located on the main thoroughfares, and their efforts to attract trade are quite ingenious.

The business of these charlatans, at first thought, seems harmless. But it has proved otherwise. Cases have already appeared in police court wherein it has been proved that the new-comers to the city have exercised undoubted powers of separating other people from their lawful possessions, and in addition to the instances of cheating and stealing that have been made public, there have doubtless been many more of which no public record is made.

There is also the feature that there are still a considerable number of persons who have implicit belief in these fakers. Their statements are often the cause of setting in motion by suggestions of one form or another a train of suspicious and misunderstandings that seriously menace the peace, and often disrupt families. The ouija board is sometimes used to help in deceiving the unwary.

It would seem worth while for the police to look a little farther into the statue books and see if there is not a legal method by which the city can be rid of the undesirable presence of these visitors.

GET TOGETHER

Mr. Payson Smith, state commissioner of education, at a meeting of teachers in Lowell a few days ago, emphasized as one of the great needs of the day the spirit of "get-togetherness."

Back among the hills and valleys of New England there still exists a spirit of neighborliness that has well-nigh been crushed out of existence in the cities. If a man or woman is sick in the district, the whole neighborhood knows of it and is ready to help in every possible way the afflicted ones. Instead of the trained nurse of the cities, some motherly woman, who perhaps has known her patient from childhood, steps in to minister at the bedside. If an uninsured house burns, if a farmer has a long spell of hard luck, the other farmers dig deep into their pockets to make up the loss. This is all done as a matter of course and not as something unusual.

In the city we take care of our fortunes in other ways, but they are not the ways that make for neighborliness.

The radicalism and the unrest of the present time are due in some measure to the fact that we, as a people, are divided by boundaries of one kind or another that keep us from getting acquainted.

The capitalist blames the laboring man for what he considers unjust demands, and the toiler on his part thinks of his employer as an enemy whose interests are all in opposition to his own. This is all wrong.

The spirit of "get-togetherness," which Dr. Smith spoke, will go far toward changing this condition. Unless the present unrest is to continue, neighborliness must come back into its own again. The employer must know more about the way in which his employees live, and must attempt to get their viewpoints on things that are of common interest. There must be a general realization that we are all embarked in the same boat, on the self-same voyage, and that we must all pull together to reach the haven of safety.

PARTY PLATFORMS

Probably moved by the appeals of Chairman Hays of the national republican committee for material for a party platform, the National Association of Manufacturers has decided to prepare a Platform for American Industry to be submitted to both parties for use in the construction of their national platforms. The keynote of that platform will be the need of increased production and how to attain it. That is the great question of the hour and the views of the manufacturers upon such an important problem should receive respectful consideration.

In view of present conditions and recent experience, the manufacturers realize that it is necessary to cut away from the hackneyed generalities and get down to something definite and specific.

The manufacturers want more prompt railroad service, they want raw material at reasonable rates; and they want to be free to continue their business so long as they pay fair wages and comply with the laws of the state and federal governments.

Very justly they believe that the literacy test is operating against the best interests of the country, that a man's general fitness to become a good citizen is of greater importance than the ability to read and write our language. In reference to the immigrants, the Manufacturers' Association wisely suggests that the elevation of aliens to citizenship should be attended with formal and impressive ceremonies calculated to give the applicants for citizenship some idea of the significance of this function of the court. Another suggestion is, that a supervisor of highways be chosen to develop the truck highways between great cities in order to keep them in proper condition all the year round.

These proposals may not appeal to the republican leaders as likely to win votes; but they will be put forward for their practical worth to the country at large. This "Platform of Industry" is intended to meet the demands of employer as well as employee, and in that aspect alone will it be acceptable from a political standpoint.

If the platform to be adduced by the manufacturers, be not acceptable to organized labor, it is probable that the head officials of the American Federation of Labor will submit a few suggestions of their own.

The two political parties will diverge principally on the League of Nations, which the republicans will take with the Lodge reservations.

That the democratic party will accept President Wilson's policy of favoring the League of Nations without reservations of any kind is very doubtful. It was noticeable that most of the democratic senators were willing to stand with the republicans for ratification with the reservations, but not otherwise. The democratic party will not take the stand that the League of Nations can ever serve the purposes of the Monroe Doctrine, and on this, at least, reservations will be insisted upon, despite the stand of the president.

On other questions, the party will stand upon its great record of achievement; and in this respect the republicans have little to show for the period during which they have been in control of congress. They have been trying to find evidence of corruption in the management of the war but their criticism in this line, however perfunctory, is not likely to appeal to the people as anything above the most commonplace political claptrap.

ROMANCE SHATTERED

Mrs. Hammondshaw—"I was disappointed this afternoon."
Hammondshaw—"How?"

AND IT DIDN'T HAIL

Daniel P. McAuley of Clinton, talking with the members of an automobile party getting ready for a ride, said that whenever he carried an umbrella in doubtful weather it never rained. They were a little worried about the weather and asked him if he would carry his umbrella all that afternoon, and to make sure of it every one chipped in a dollar. So Mr. McAuley got $7 for carrying his umbrella around with him from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. and it never rained a drop.

LOWELL WAS FIRST

Students at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh installed a radio transmitter in Central hall to send out the music of an orchestra playing in the hall to scores of radio students in the district listening in. Prof. Rath, hearing the music in the experiment station of the university, half a mile away, succeeded by the use of a magnavox—an instrument to increase the sound from a radio receiver—and two strings of electric wires, in passing it on a half-mile to the Heinz house, where students danced at it.

Such Is Life

"In these days, when by oft reiterated woman has almost established beyond possibility of doubt her equality, if not superiority over man, it is good, indeed, to find an evidence to the contrary," says Squire Abner Harrington.

"There was a time, years and years ago, in this country, when men gave to women their seats in crowded street cars."

"Then came an era of equal chances for the vacant seats."

"Now the order (change) and man becomes the dominant sex."

"It was yesterday I saw a gentleman, who may have been a plumber or a banker—at least one of the higher classes—gently and with kindness elbow a woman with two children and three packages into a corner of the car while he appropriated a vacated seat."

"Of course, it might be argued the woman was handicapped by impediments."

"That is true."

"Yet I feel that, could my critics have seen the gentleman, they would endorse my opinion that in a free fight he could and would have adjudicated the matter in his own favor."

"Truly we may detect the signs of a new day when man will triumph and be exalted over woman."

"Tomorrow may bring us to this new item:

"John Doe, arrested Tuesday and charged with malicious destruction of property, pleaded not guilty in police court yesterday. Doe, it was said, had broken a window in a Blank street car. The defendant admitted the act, but pleaded that he had been compelled to push Miss Mary Roe's head through the window to prevent her taking a seat he had selected. He was sharply reprimanded before his release."

Mother's Day—May 9th

The whole world over, we see it penned: "Mama's mother is ever his one best friend."

And it's likely that each who says it, loo,

First learned for himself, the words When Success turned off with the ones he thought

Would give him aid—till the aid was sought—

When his plans went wrong, and he burned with shame, She proved that she loved him just the same.

And she told her all, and he raised his head, And she smiled, and he found that his hurt had fled.

He went to her when things all seemed gloom, And she gave him courage to try anew, "His one best friend"—so the saying goes.

He says it because he's learned, His With a love through all, to the very end—

What a gift, to be born with that sort of a friend!

—JESSIE F. GILDOERS.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Mayor Perry D. Thompson admits he is enjoying his period in office. In the word of T. R., "he's having a bully time."

Now that the Locks and Canals has granted the city's request to acquire the First street oval through the medium of a three-year lease and then absolute purchase, it is to be hoped that the municipal council will lose no time in consideration of the petition of the chamber of commerce relative to the re-location of the boulevard so as not to bisect the land in question. This probably will not be difficult to do, for already it is informally understood that a change in location will be favored by the county commissioners and state highway commission. Once the thread of the road is changed, the question will then come before the city in a different form—what is to be done to it? It is sure that the high school authorities and others will make an earnest plea to have part of the plot set aside for a school athletic field and devise ways and means of raising the necessary money to finance the scheme.

All the students of the university extension courses have recently received the News Letter for the month of May which deals with home-making and the courses which are given under that subject by the state. There are many university extension students in this city and they have found the monthly letters sent out by Mr. Moyer to be very interesting and instructive. Moreover they are written in a very appealing style. The letter for May is in part as follows:

"Beautiful homes need not be expensive, and good home-makers strive to make their homes attractive and comfortable. The house with a beautiful exterior and interior fully repays the occupants in satisfaction and pleasure for any effort or thought they may have invested in its improvement. I feel that no one is so indifferent to his surroundings not to get benefit and enjoyment from a well planned home. The friends of the occupants, moreover, enjoy coming to such a dwelling, and newcomers are drawn to the neighborhood by this attractive place. A fine appearance increases the value of a property. It often stimulates neighboring householders to

by Olive Roberts Barton.

THE TWINS DO AN ERRAND

Scramble Squirrel and Ben Bunny left Scrub-Up Land at the same time, but when they got to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming they had to say good-bye to each other, for they lived in different directions.

You remember, don't you, that Rubadub had changed Ben's ears for Scramble's tail, and Scramble's tail for Ben's ears? When they parted, Scramble went home to his wife, Samantha Squirrel, who was fixing up their summer house in the old maple tree in the woods. And Ben went home to his

I'd like to know it, because he is so proud, he'd never come back to tell me himself."

"Goody!" cried the twins. "Green Shoes, please take us after Scramble right away, and follow him wherever he goes."

Whisk! Instantly they were lifted out of Scrub-Up Land and set down in the middle of a little green path in the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming, and right in front of them was Scramble Squirrel tearing along home as fast as he could go.

Only, if the twins hadn't known all wife, Blossom, who was doing her spring cleaning.

Just as soon as they had left, Rubadub turned to the twins. "Would you mind doing a favor for me?" he asked.

"We'd love to," said Nancy at once. "Shouldn't we, Nick?"

Of course Nick said "Yes," so Rubadub explained what he wanted. "You children have your green shoes that will take you anywhere at all, so suppose you go after Scramble Squirrel and see how he gets along with Ben Bunny's ears. If he gets into trouble about him, they should never have recognized him at all, with Ben Bunny's great long ears stuck on top of his head and his tail as gone as yesterday.

When he stopped at the maple tree, the children remembered the woodpecker's hole they had hid in once before in the very same tree above Mrs. Squirrel's house, so now they wished themselves in it again.

Puff! Up they went right into the snug little nest.

VILLA'S DAYS OF BANDITRY END

Has Laid Down His Arms
and Turned His Forces
Over to Revolutionists

Was Responsible for American Troops Crossing Border in 1916

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 10.—Francisco Villa's days of banditry and constant menace to all attempts to establish stable government in Mexico and to the relations between this republic and the United States, are ended, according to reports reaching here. Leaders of the new revolution displayed visible relief today at the announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and turned his men over to Gen. Ignacio Enriquez, revolutionary commander of the Chihuahua district.

Since the revolution swept out of Sonora with increasing momentum what Villa would do or what would be done with him, had been a source of much speculation.

The announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and guided his followers into the ranks of the revolutionists came from Gen. Escobar, commander of Juarez. Villa also notified the Mexican Central railway, Escobar said, that guards of soldiers no longer would be necessary on trains.

Villa was one of President Carranza's first supporters and later one of his most troublesome enemies. He also personally was responsible for American troops crossing the border, his most serious offense against the United States probably being the famous raid on Columbus, N. M., on March 3, 1916, when 17 persons were killed and several buildings burned.

It was on that occasion that the 13th cavalry gave chase to the bandit leader and killed 100 of his followers. A few days later Gen. Pershing and 4000 men marched 200 miles into the interior in pursuit of the Villa band.

MISS ZIMMERMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

SPRINGFIELD, May 10.—The trial of Miss Jennie Zimmerman, aged 26, charged with the murder of her cousin, Dr. Henry Zimmerman, in this city, Aug. 7, last year, began before Judge Nelson D. Brown in superior court today. The shooting occurred in the street. The young physician, who had just been discharged from the service and was still in his lieutenant's uniform, had been riding with two Manchester, N. H., women when, the indictment charges, Miss Zimmerman approached and after a few moments conversation apart from the others, fired four shots. The doctor died instantly. Miss Zimmerman walked a short distance and collapsed. Both Dr. Zimmerman and Miss Zimmerman were well known in local Jewish circles.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

Interesting Statistics—15,342

Pairs of Twins and 147
Sets of Triplets Born

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Births in the registration area of the United States, which covers about 53 per cent of the country's estimated population during 1919, exceeded deaths by 21.4 per cent. Statistics for that year just completed by the census bureau show a total of 1,362,413 births in the area, which is a small decrease compared with 1917, while the deaths, 1,011,020 show a slight increase. Of every 100 infants born during 1919, 10 died before reaching the age of one year, a fractional decrease over 1917.

The birth of 15,342 pairs of twins and 147 sets of triplets was reported. There were 38 cases where the birth was the 20th or more child.

BOLSHEVIK ADVANCES HOLD UP SUPPLIES

PARIS, May 10.—Russian Bolshevik forces are expected to advance in the Caucasus region and preparations have been made by Colonel William Haskell, director general of American relief in the near east, to withdraw all American supplies to a place of safety. Baku is the base of operations in the Caucasus region, but so great has been the demand from Armenia, that comparatively small amounts of supplies have accumulated there.

Shipments of more than 1000 tons of American flour consigned to Armenia will be diverted and held in port, pending the outcome of the Bolshevik advance, according to officers of the United States Grain Corporation here.

Col. Haskell, whose force of workers consists of about 40 army officers and a number of American women, has not removed his headquarters from Batumi. The personnel of the staff is scattered throughout Armenia and latest reports state they are all safe and well. If it is forced to quit Batumi, Col. Haskell is expected to go to some port on the southern shore of the Black sea and continue his relief work.

WARSAW, May 10.—Ukrainian infantry joined the Poles in occupying Kiev in force late Saturday.

CARNATIONS SOLD FOR 25 CENTS EACH

The mere fact that carnations sold at retail for 25 and 35 cents did not deter thousands of Lowell people from purchasing them Saturday and Sunday in observance of Mothers' day. Other pink and white flowers were seen in good numbers, too, but carnations appeared in great abundance, worn either in honor of or in fragrant remembrance of "man's best friend."

Also, it was a glorious day to be out of doors and thousands of the city's people took advantage of the opportunity which indeed has been of rare occurrence this spring. Hundreds chose the boulevard which leads to Tyngsboro and strolled as far as the new municipal bath house, while others crowded Lakeside cars, just to get a refreshing glimpse of the sun-kissed water. Camps on nearby ponds and on both rivers, long closed through a winter of unusual severity, were re-opened and made ready for occupancy this summer.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place this morning when Mr. Antonio Garlepy, a prominent business man of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garlepy of Pelham, N. H., and Miss Gertrude Lebrun, a popular employee of the A. G. Pollard Co., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. A. Lebrun, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 8 o'clock by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I. The bride was attired in white crepe meteor and wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The witnesses were Messrs. J. B. A. Lebrun and Joseph Garlepy, fathers respectively of the bride and groom. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 25 Varney street, where a wedding breakfast was served by Caterer M. A. Lydon, present at the festivities being guests from Leominster, Pawtucket, R. I., Pelham, N. H., and other places. Mr. and Mrs. Garlepy, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left this afternoon on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington and upon their return next Sunday they will be tendered a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Pelham. They will make their home at 253 Mammoth road.

The marriage of Mr. Arthur Landry and Miss Alden St. George took place this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock in St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I. The bride wore a light grey traveling suit and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Mr. Antoine St. George, while the groom's witness was Mr. Edith Landry. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 209 Perkins street, and at 10:45 o'clock the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Montreal, Quebec and Trois Rivières. Upon their return in two weeks they will make their home at 253 Mammoth street.

TEA BLOUSES NEW AURIOLE SHADE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, May 10.—The dashing D'Arcy tea blouses are fascinating things of that new auriole color which is something between a flame and an apricot shade. It radiates dash and verve without being bizarre, and as for the blouses themselves, one sees them everywhere. Though they are called "tea blouses," they are worn with sport skirts too, and for matinee and for visiting.

At any rate, they are very fashionable. Incidentally, at the Ritz the other afternoon, I counted no less than 10, not all in auriole, but in lovely blues, greens and blacks exquisite with touches of colored embroidery and wadded heads.

VISITORS TO THE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

About 50 private telephone exchange operators in the Lowell district met at the local exchange in Appleton street this morning at 10 o'clock as the guests of Manager Charles J. Leathers and thoroughly enjoyed an inspection of the entire plant. While Mr. Leathers conducted the party through the building, heads of the various departments carefully explained the details of each and cheerfully answered a multitude of questions.

The object of the trip through the building was an attempt to increase the efficiency of service to large users and let the exchange hours operator see just what occurs when she puts a call through the central switchboard from her private station. The trip had a tendency to give the private operators a more intimate knowledge of the plant and system in vogue, it being the company's contention and belief that service will be bettered thereby.

REPUBLICANS TO SELECT CHAIRMAN

CHICAGO, May 10.—The republican national committee met here today to select a temporary chairman for the national convention June 8, and to transact other preliminary business.

The name of Senator Lodge was the only one openly spoken of in connection with the temporary chairmanship, republican leaders said.

Washington, Georgia, Rhode Island and North Carolina, had women representatives registered, and it was said probably one or two more would be on hand later.

STAND BY TREATY URGES WILSON

Declares Honor of Nation in Democratic Party's Hands
—Great Opportunity

Says Reservations Break Our Pledge to World—Sends Letter to Leaders

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A call to the democratic party to go into the convention standing four square in favor of the treaty of Versailles and against the senate's reservations, was issued last night by President Wilson in a telegram to Oregon democratic leaders made public at the White House.

Declaring that the party not "the honor of the nation," in his hands, the president said that the Lodge reservations were "utterly inconsistent" with that honor as well as destructive of the role of world leadership which the United States must assume.

The only true Americanism, the president said, was that which puts America at the front of free nations and redeems the great promises which we made the world.

Reservations Violate Promises
It would be a violation of such promises, he said, to attach reservations to the treaty which "whittle it down or weaken it as the republican leaders of the senate have proposed to do."

The telegram was in response to the following message from G. B. Hamaker of Portland, Ore., chairman at Multnomah county democratic central committee:
"Primary election May 21. Please wire whether you consider it important to nominate candidates pledged to ratify Versailles treaty, without Lodge reservations."

The reply of the president follows:
"I think it imperative that the party should at once proclaim itself the uncompromising champion of the nation's honor and the advocate of everything that the United States can do in the service of humanity; that it should therefore endorse and support the Versailles treaty and condemn the Lodge reservations as utterly inconsistent with the nation's honor and destructive of the world leadership which it had established and which all the free peoples of the world, including the great powers themselves, had shown themselves ready to welcome."

"It is time that the party should proudly avow that it means to try, without finching or turning at any time away from the path for reasons of expediency, to apply moral and Christian principles to the problems of the world. It is trying to accomplish social, political and international reforms and is not daunted by any of the difficulties it has to contend with. Let us prove to our late associates in the war that at any rate the great majority party of the nation, the party which expresses the true hopes and purposes of the people of the country, intends to keep faith with them in peace as well as in war."

"They gave their treasure, their best blood and everything that they valued in order, not merely to beat Germany, but to effect a settlement and bring about arrangements of peace which they have now tried to formulate in the treaty of Versailles."

"They are entitled to our support in this settlement and in the arrangements for which they have striven."

"The League of Nations is the hope of the world. As a basis for the armistice, it was authorized by all the great fighting nations to say to the enemy that it was our object in proposing peace to establish a general association of nations under specific guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike and the covenant of the League of Nations is the deliberate embodiment of that purpose in the treaty of peace."

"The chief motives which led us to enter the war will be defeated unless that covenant is ratified and acted upon with vigor. We cannot in honor whittle it down or weaken it as the republican leaders of the senate have proposed to do. If we are to exercise the kind of leadership to which the founders of the republic looked forward and which they depended upon their successors to establish we must do this thing with courage and unalterable determination."

"They expected the United States to be always the leader in the defense of liberty and ordered peace throughout the world and we are unwilling to call ourselves their successors unless we fulfill the great purpose they entertained and proclaimed."

"The true Americanism, the only true Americanism, is that which puts America at the front of free nations and redeems the great promises which we made the world when we entered the war which was fought, not for the advantage of any single nation or group of nations, but for the salvation of all. It is in this way we shall redeem the sacred blood that was shed and make America the force she should be in the councils of mankind."

She cannot afford to sink into the place that nations have usually occupied and become merely one of those who scramble and look about for selfish advantage."

"The democratic party has now a great opportunity to which it must measure up. The honor of the nation is in its hands."

Enamel and Stencils Transform Ordinary Furniture Into a Dining Room Suite of Refreshing Tone—This Dining Room Suggests Spring Time

BY VIOLA FLEISCHMAN
Interior Decorator

CLEVELAND, May 10.—A dining room needs light and cheerfulness, but it does not require of necessity highly expensive furnishings. In the dining room illustrated every article of furniture is an example of the way old pieces relegated to disuse may be transformed.

The table is the kitchen variety with staunch legs and a drop lid on each of two sides. The chairs are the simplest style to be found. The glass enclosed cabinet shown was made from an old china cabinet. It was saved off as shown in the smaller illustration and supplied with a substantial base and set of turned legs. A pair of console tables, which can be used as serving tables, were made from an old discarded walnut extension table by sawing it apart and supplying a wide board at the back.

Cream Colored Enamel
This set of furniture was thoroughly scrubbed with lye water to remove grease and loose paint, lightly sand-papered where surface was rough and uneven, and given two or three coats of flat white paint with a finishing coat of enamel, tinted to an ecru or deep cream color. Around the edge or main surface was applied a line of dull medium blue color about a half inch wide. Then a simple fruit, floral or bird design was stenciled in red, orange and apple green.

An individual lighting fixture can be made by suspending an inverted wire lampshade on four thick silk cords from a painted tin tray attached to the ceiling. For the panels in the center fixture wall paper was used. A design in keeping with the stencil decoration was selected in blue, cream, orange, green and ecru. It was converted into parchment by being dipped in linseed oil.

Walls and Floor Covering
The walls were finished in a mottled effect with washable flat paint, gray, blue and ivory predominating. The stencil decoration was repeated on the walls just below the cornice. The cornice may be enameled cream color like the woodwork of the room, or it may be stained mahogany and varnished.

On the floor a hand woven rag rug in black, buff, blue and green makes an effective covering, with the wood of the floor finished in natural color or

From an old extension table, sawed apart, two console tables can be made.

An old-fashioned china cabinet can be saved in two at about line to make two modern pieces of furniture.

Painted a light brown. Hangings, table runners and other accessories with a little needlework, blue and natural color linen, sateen or crash being suitable for these articles.

VISITOR FROM CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Elizabeth Wadsworth of Los Angeles, California, is on a three months' trip to the eastern states and Canada, and is visiting relatives in this city. Erdis of Liberty street and Mrs. J. H. Smith of Dover street. Mrs. Wadsworth's husband and son conduct a large dairy ranch and walnut farm about sixteen miles out of Los Angeles and she says that business is quite prosperous in that vicinity. She loves California and would not want to live elsewhere, though she thoroughly enjoys an occasional eastern trip. From here she will go to New York and later will visit all the way from Cornwall, Ont., to Seattle.

TWO BLUEBEARDS!

One Lacks Courage—The Other Defiant

BLUEBEARD HUITT

Broken by two attempts at suicide and mingling his confessions with pleas for mercy, James H. Huitt, the Pacific coast bluebeard, lacks completely the courage to face his fate. When Huitt guided the authorities to the spot where he had buried the body of Nina Lee Delaney, he explained that he was doing all possible to "right the wrongs he had done." He insists that an uncontrollable impulse prompted him to kill women who loved and trusted him. Of the five women Huitt says he has killed, the bodies of two have been found. In one respect the Parisian bluebeard, Henri Landru, and Huitt resemble each other. Women assert that they were tender and devoted in courtship. Both Huitt and Landru stripped their victims of their savings.

"and love is my business, but if I am to be accused of making war with women, why not credit me with 100, or at least a round dozen?" 110 steeps soundly in prison and sneers at the detectives.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR FARMERS' BALL

Final arrangements for the "Farmers' ball" of the C.Y.M.L. to be held next Friday evening in Associates hall were made at a special meeting of that organization held yesterday morning in the gymnasium hall in Suffolk street. Reports from various committees in charge of the affair indicated that it would be one of the most successful yet conducted. Prizes for winners in the grand march competition are on display downtown and a large number of entries have been received for this feature of the program. The usual street parade, preceding the ball, will be held and the usual rural characters and well known hayrack will again be in evidence. James Keefe is director of the affair, and the committee in charge includes: John Keefe, chairman; M. O'Donovan, James H. Walsh, secretary; William Gilligan, J. Mahoney, J. Carroll, L. Wholey, W. Sargent, P. McFarrell, J. Keefe, J. Fitzgerald, M. Manning, J. Haley, E. Mullen and J. Murphy.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Harry Place, a former resident of this city and now of Passaic, N. J., and Miss Margaret Keefe were married May 1 at St. Margaret's church, Ridgewood, N. J., by Rev. P. O'Malley. The best man and bridesmaid were Mr. Christopher Place, a brother of the groom and Miss Hannah Keefe, a sister of the bride. The couple will make their home in Passaic, N. J., where the groom is in business.

DROP 50 FEET INTO RIVER

Engine, Freight Car and Tender Plunge Over 50-Foot Embankment

Engineer Missing—Fireman Seriously Scalded—Brakeman Injured

FREDERICKTON, N. B., May 10.—J. G. Smith, engineer of a freight locomotive on the Canadian National railway, was missing after the locomotive, a freight car and a tender today plunged over a 50-foot embankment into the Nashwaak river.

Clifford Hughes, fireman, was seriously scalded. John Estabrook, brakeman, was pinned under the tender, with only his neck and head out of the water, was also badly hurt.

The wreck was caused by the undermining of the tracks by high water, due to heavy rain and a break in a paper mill dam. When the dam gave way, the rush of logs tore away a large part of the embankment on which the tracks were laid.

MORE BODIES COMING

Two Years Will Pass Before All Bodies of American Soldiers Reach Home

PARIS, May 10.—Two years will pass before all the bodies of American soldiers and marines can be exhumed from their graves in the battle area and taken to the United States, according to estimates by the Graves registration service. The second shipment left Brest today.

All bodies will be removed from German soil regardless of the requests of families, and work there will begin soon. Along the battle lines and in rear areas, 45,000 bodies will be exhumed and taken to America. To relieve the French railways they will be taken to Brest as far as possible by canal boats and motor trucks. Bodies left in France will be grouped in one or more military cemeteries.

WEARS 2 DECORATIONS

Boy Honored by Prince Alexander of Serbia Becomes N. Y. Schoolboy

NEW YORK, May 10.—Nikola Stanovich, 14, wearer of the two decorations conferred for bravery by Prince Alexander of Serbia, today became a New York schoolboy.

More than two years ago he left school in Chicago and accompanied his father as a volunteer to the Serbian army. In action against the Bulgars, he was wounded by a shell which killed his father. While convalescent in a hospital he received from Prince Alexander the medals which he wore upon his return to the United States a few days ago.

PIRATES HOLD UP SHIP MAY LOSE RIGHT ARM

Rob Passengers, Including Americans—Force Crew to Row Them Ashore

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.—(By Associated Press)—Pirates held up the French packet Soufrah, which left Batum on May 6, en route to Marseilles, and after robbing the passengers, went ashore in boats which they compelled members of the crew to man.

Among those on board the vessel were Mrs. Haskell, wife of Col. William Haskell, director general of American relief in the Near East and Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Booth, whose husbands are connected with relief work in Armenia. They were fleeing before the Bolshevik advance and were forced to give up their money and jewelry at the point of a revolver.

The pirates boarded the steamer at Batum either as passengers or members of the crew. At 9 o'clock on the night of May 6, 15 men sprang up from various parts of the ship, covered officers and passengers with pistols and shouted warnings that they would kill any who opposed them. Search of the ship continued for two hours.

A French destroyer took the American women aboard, and later transferred them to the American destroyer Cole, which arrived here today.

FORMER GERMAN LINER TO FLY BETWEEN NEW YORK AND RIO DE JANEIRO

NEW YORK, May 10.—Another link in the chain of ships which is to join North and South America was forged here today when the 10,771 ton passenger liner Huron was dedicated to the shipping board's South American service.

The Huron, formerly the German liner Friedrich Der Grosse, will sail next Saturday for Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires with all of her cabin accommodations filled.

Two hundred representatives of the United States and South American government officials of the shipping board, and executives of various steamship lines attended the dedication ceremonies, as guests of Frank C. Munson, president of the line which bears his name, chosen by the shipping board, as managing agents of the service.

The Huron will be the largest commercial ship flying the American flag to visit a South American port. It is expected that the voyage to Rio de Janeiro will be made in 15 days.

INCREASE IN WAGES

Boy Hurlled Against Window of Car as He Rises to Give Seat to Woman

BOSTON, May 10.—Courtesy in giving up his seat in a street car to an elderly woman yesterday afternoon may cost William E. Egan, 17, of 49 Cameron street, Brookline, his right arm. Anyway, his arm never will function quite normally again. It is said.

Egan had been occupying a seat in a crowded incoming Chestnut Hill car. The woman got on and the car started along Ipswich street and lurched on the sharp curve near Lansdowne street. It was at this point that the youth arose to tender her his seat. The car's motion threw him against one of the windows.

His right arm was thrust through the glass, lacerating the flesh badly and severing tendons at the elbow. At the City hospital it was said that an operation might be necessary.

FRENCH SUBWAY MEN NOT TO JOIN STRIKE

PARIS, May 10.—Leon Jouhaux, master spirit of the French Federation of Labor, apparently failed today to strengthen the movement for nationalization of public utilities by calling a strike on transportation lines, subways and tramways in Paris. Omnibuses were going about as usual, but only a few cabs were seen.

Frequent clashes occurred between taxicab drivers who were ready to run their machines and strikers. Tramways were working regularly, but remained within the walls of Paris and did not enter the suburbs. The strike was complete at Marseilles and St. Etienne, and effective at Lyons. The congress of the federation of police of France and the colonies, scheduled to take place tomorrow at Nancy, was cancelled by order of M. Steeg, minister of the interior, because of the strike situation.

Interest now centres on whether Jouhaux will call out gas and electrical workers.

The union of subway workers is understood to have decided not to walk out.

FIRST CLASS GUN POINTER
Official recognition of marksmanship has been given to Edward J. Campbell, of 120 South street who is a seaman, 2nd class, aboard the United States destroyer Cass. Campbell made a record from a 4 inch 50 calibre gun making a score of 4.31. This score is made according to the number of his made, the speed of firing, and the roll and pitch of the "wagon." Campbell will receive an increase in pay having been rated as a first class gun pointer.

MAN SLEEPS AS TIDE CREEPS UP ON HIS CAR

LYNN, May 10.—Lulled to sleep by the washing of the waves about his limousine far out on Nahant beach, Charles W. Foss of 361 Robertson road, Jamaica Plain, slept undisturbed Saturday afternoon while the tide swept in past the car and mounted to the hubs of the wheels.

The tide was well out when Mr. Foss, an elderly gentleman and an invalid, motored close to the border of the sands and the sea with two women relatives and his chauffeur, Christopher Bluck. His companions went for a walk and Mr. Foss went to sleep.

It was some time after that passing motorists noticed what appeared to be a limousine adrift, and soon a crowd of 100 or more gathered close to the water's edge. Nobody seemed eager to get his feet wet and the invalid appeared in danger of finding his inept craft soon rocked in the deep, when Bluck, alarmed from a distance by the crowd, appeared running. He quickly removed shoes and stockings and, rolling up his trousers, waded in and brought out his helpless employer in his arms.

Metropolitan police officers tried to get neighboring garages to salvage the car, but all pleaded pressure of Sunday business. Finally 100 men on a rope pulled the car back to shore, and the party started home, neither the car nor its owner any the worse for their hour's marooning.

KNOCKED BEER VOTING LEGISLATORS

Local members of the legislature, who voted for the 2.75 per cent beer bill were condemned by Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins in a sermon on "God Give Us Prophets" at the First Congregational church last evening. He asserted that the legislators knew that the bill would mean nothing when they voted for it and praised Governor Coolidge for his action in vetoing it.

Speaking of candidates for the presidency he said he could not find a single bright spot among the names of those mentioned as candidates. He said that Wood is a gentleman and was a friend of Roosevelt, but that he had issued no soul-stirring message to the American people. Johnson he referred to as a satellite, imitator and knocker.

The speaker commended William Jennings Bryan as having fought for a great moral principle. He said he had been kicked out of the state of Nebraska, and then had gone back there and won a great victory for the principle that he is to take to the national convention with him.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

REPUBLICANS MEET IN C. M. A. C. HALL

C.M.A.C. hall was filled yesterday afternoon at a political meeting held under the auspices of Lowell branch, Massachusetts State Republican league and in the interests of the local drive to swell the membership of the branch to 2000. The speakers were Joe Mitchell of Chapple of Boston, editor of the National Magazine, and Capt. Daniel J. McKay, director of Americanization work of the league.

William J. White, Jr., president of Lowell branch, was the presiding officer, being introduced by Rep. Henry Achlin, Jr. Vigorous community singing was led by Albert Edmund Brown and the Lowell branch quartet was cordially received.

Mr. Chapple recounted many of his overseas experiences during the war and time after time thrilled his audience with graphic stories of France and Belgium. He said that the work of reconstruction just ahead must be placed in the hands of the republican party, whose program was better fitted for the task.

Capt. McKay urged perfect unity of thought and action and membership in the league organization, which, he said, is destined to play an important role in the political life of the state within the next few years.

Informal "cats" were served after the meeting.

LOWELL ITALIANS BUY LIBERTY BONDS

The Italian speaking people of this city gathered in Colonial theatre, Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, last evening to hear speakers in the interest of the Italian Liberty loan drive. The meeting was addressed by Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Ubaldo Guidi, who came to America from Italy with an official delegation and before the close of the meeting the sum of $3020 was subscribed.

In the early evening the visitors were met at the railroad station and escorted by a brass band through Milledesex, Gorham, Summer and Central streets, and later they were taken through the hall, where upon their arrival "The Star Spangled Banner" was played by the band. Mr. Guidi, in the course of his remarks, explained how the rate of exchange had choked the Italian industries and he told of fearful conditions from hunger there. He made a strong appeal for the sale of bonds, which bear 7 per cent interest and which will mature in five years. Accompanying Mr. Guidi was Mr. Vittorio Orlandini. The drive will continue in this city for two months with headquarters in charge of Angelo Di Domenico at 103 South street. The committee in charge of the local drive consists of the following:

Angelo Di Domenico, who acts as chairman, and who entertained the speakers: Domenico Bernardino, Demetrio Dimodana, Ferdinando D'Arzoz, Pasquale Nero, Angelo Tedescucci, Vincent Marotta, Vito Carnevale, Anthony Berto, Santuccio Tetulle and Giacomo Musa.

Daniels Says Sims Accepted British Views As Superior to Anything Proposed From America

NAVY SECRETARY DEBATE ON IRISH ANSWERS SIMS

Says He Lacked Vision, Belittled Work of U. S. Navy in Contrast to British

Coveted British Decorations and Aspired to Become Member of Admiralty

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary Daniels before the senate investigating committee today made his long awaited reply to the criticisms of Rear Admiral Sims on the navy's part in the war.

He charged that Sims lacked vision, belittled the work of the American navy in contrast to the British, coveted British decorations and aspired to become an honorary member of the British admiralty. He declared that officers supporting the Sims charges were largely "people with a grievance."

Testimony of other officers, in possession of first hand knowledge, Secretary Daniels testified, "should be accepted by all open-minded men as an absolute refutation of practically all of Admiral Sims' charges."

Sims, the secretary said, did not measure up to expectations in various ways, of which he mentioned six, as follows:

"He lacked vision to see that a great and new project to bar the submarines from their hunting grounds should be promptly adopted and carried out, no matter what the cost or how radical the departure from what ultra-prudent men regarded as impracticable."

"He seemed to accept the views of the British admiralty as superior to anything that would come from America and urged those views even when the navy department proposed plans that proved more effective."

"In public speeches and other ways, he gave a maximum of credit to British efforts and minimized what his country was doing."

"He coveted British decorations and seemed to place a higher value on honors given abroad than on honors that could be conferred by the American government."

"He aspired to become a member of the British admiralty and wrote complainingly when the American government declined to permit him to accept such a tender by the King of England."

"He placed protection of merchant shipping as the main operation of our forces abroad, failing to appreciate that the protection of transports carrying troops to France was the paramount naval duty until I felt impelled to cable him peremptorily that such was our main mission."

Secretary Daniels testified that he had known in October, 1918, that Sims had made statements reflecting upon the contributions of the United States army and navy to winning the war to members of congress visiting abroad, he would never have recommended his promotion. "He had not then attacked the Irish people," Secretary Daniels testified. "I thought then he had only defended American sailors, a proper thing to do when attacked unjustly by what he termed a lawless element in Cork. If I had known that he proposed, under the permission granted him to tell the story of what the navy had done overseas, to denounce the Irish people as he did in his articles in the World's Work, the permission would not have been granted."

Major Succeeded Where Sims Failed
Secretary Daniels said he had never publicly or privately criticized Admiral Sims.

DEBATE ON IRISH HOME RULE BILL

Former Premier Asquith Moves An Amendment to the Measure

Would Change Bill so That Ireland Would Have But One Parliament

LONDON, May 10.—Debate on the Irish home rule bill began today when former Premier Asquith moved an amendment altering the bill so that Ireland would have one parliament instead of separate parliaments for the north and south, as provided in the government measure. Mr. Asquith's amendment would provide one parliament with county option for Ulster for a period limited to six years, as proposed in 1914.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE IS DISMISSED

As a result of the examination of Medical Examiner Thomas E. Smith and the inquest made before Judge Pickman, the charge of manslaughter against Frederick H. Haines for causing the death of Miss Rita M. Aldrich in an auto accident on Merrimack street on April 10, was dismissed at today's session of police court. Judge Enright made the report that her death was not caused or contributed to by the criminal negligence of Frederick Haines or by the criminal negligence of any other person or persons.

Miss Aldrich, who was an employee of the A. G. Pollard company, left the store on Saturday evening, April 10, and attempted to cross Merrimack street previous to taking a Highlands cab, but after passing between two autos, which were parked by the sidewalk, she stepped in front of Haines' machine. The report states that the auto was going at the rate of about six miles per hour and that the driver put on the emergency brakes and that the wheels did not run over the body.

FLETCHER CASE IN CIVIL COURT

Suit Resulting From Fatal Accident on Ayer Road Crossing in 1917

Plaintiff Seeks to Recover $31,000 From Boston & Maine Railroad

Trial of the suit of Edwin N. Fletcher against the Boston & Maine railroad, growing out of an automobile accident on a state road crossing between Littleton and Ayer on the night of October 31, 1917, in which Theodore Fletcher and his aunt, Carrie H. Fletcher were killed when their machine was struck by a Boston-bound passenger train, was begun before Judge Fosdick in the superior civil court here today. The plaintiff seeks $31,000 for each death and $1000 for automobile damages.

A motion was made and allowed, changing the respondent named in the original writ from James H. Hestus, as receiver for the Boston & Maine, to the railroad itself.

Charles H. Donahue of Boston, counsel for the plaintiff, announced

STEEL REPLACES WOOD

Old B. & M. Bridge Bows to Father Time—Quick Reconstruction Work

The old wooden bridge over the Pawtucket canal at its junction with the Western canal in Dutton street, built some 50 years ago, is being torn down by employees of the Boston & Maine railroad to be replaced by a modern structure steel bridge. Men have been at work on the job since last Monday and will complete the work some day this week.

What skilled bridge builders can accomplish was shown yesterday, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. the planking from the old bridge was ripped away, the rails torn off, one of the steel spans removed and a new one put in place. During the night the bridge was again in condition for the shifting of cars.

The new bridge will measure about 250 feet in length and will consist of eight steel spans ranging in length from 23 and 42 feet. All the steel work with the exception of the setting in of a short span, is completed and now the men are busy replanking the structure. The old steel spans, which were removed from one end of the bridge, will be shipped to Philadelphia, where they will be re-fabricated for smaller bridges. There are 29 men employed on the job.

RUNAWAY HORSE GETS BADLY MIXED UP

A big bay horse owned by a local news agency and hitched to a delivery wagon raised havoc in Merrimack street near the corner of Central street this forenoon, when after a wild race through Merrimack street it dashed into an automobile truck in front of Mitchell's tailor shop, ripping and driving pedestrians into doorways. There were several narrow escapes, but fortunately no one was injured.

The horse, which has been broken away once or twice before, became frightened while in Merrimack street and started at breakneck speed towards Merrimack square. As it passed John street, Undertaker Joseph Albert, in an attempt to bring it to a stop, threw an automobile robe over its head, but the animal shook it off and continued its wild race, dodging between electric cars and automobiles. When the steed dashed by Traffic Officer Swannick, the latter's attempts to stop it proved fruitless.

When the crash with the automobile truck occurred the horse was freed from the wagon, but was soon brought to a stop. The harness was damaged and the wagon shafts broken.

Carranza Must Stand Trial If Captured By the Mexican Revolutionary Troops

CARRANZA UNDER FIRE

Troops Escorting Mexican President Dispersed by Revolutionists

Gen. Obregon Reports Heavy Losses for Carranza Forces—Rebels Push On

EL PASO, Tex., May 10.—Mexican revolutionists overtook and dispersed the troops escorting President Carranza in his flight from Mexico City causing, they report, serious losses, according to a message from Alvaro Obregon to Governor De la Huerta, supreme commander of the liberal constitutionalist army, made public here today.

General Obregon detailed the capture of Mexico City, confirmed the report of a wholesale execution of military prisoners at Mexico City by General Francisco Murguía before the Carranza leader fled the capital and told of further states to join the revolution and of the capture of Puebla City, one of the largest towns in Mexico. Among the victims were General Triana, Lechuga, Artigas and Roberto Celado.

Mexican revolutionary headquarters here in making public Obregon's message said it lent credence to the report of Carranza's capture as Obregon said the Mexican president's route to the port of Vera Cruz had been cut by rebel forces.

AMERICAN TALKS OF CONDITIONS IN ARMENIA

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 9.—(By Associated Press)—Col. Sumner Waite, of the American commission for relief in the Near East, who has been traveling all over the Armenian railway for the purpose of bringing out American women workers has arrived in Constantinople with disquieting reports of conditions in Armenia. He said today that when the special train of the commission left Alexandropol, 125 miles southwest of Tiflis, on May 3, the Russian communist committee held it up for several hours and finally allowed it to proceed, the Armenians apparently having no control of their railways.

It was reported then that the government of President Khattian of Armenia, had been overthrown, but Col. Waite said he had been unable to verify the rumor.

Only the woman workers have been removed from Armenia and Col. Waite said that the American workers with the assistance of native helpers would continue the distribution of relief so long as the supplies lasted. He feared, however, that within a few days starvation would face Armenia as the Georgians persist in their refusal to permit the transportation of food stuffs.

The supply of flour was so short that Col. Waite expressed apprehension regarding the growing wheat crop. It was possible, he said, that the Armenians would be forced to dig it up, although the blades are now about four inches high and a good crop is promised.

Only one American woman relief worker, Miss Myrtle Shayne, at Alexandropol, refused to leave Armenia. She has been a missionary there for many years, and she resigned from the service of the American commission rather than obey the order for the women to leave. She said she would face Bolshevism and starvation with the Armenians.

26 RADICALS ARE PLACED ON TRIAL

Charged With Conspiracy to Advocate Overthrow of U. S. Government

Millionaire Sergeant-at-Arms of Communist Labor Convention Among Group

CHICAGO, May 10.—Twenty-six radicals who are said to have gathered here last September to form the communist labor party were placed on trial in criminal court today charged with conspiracy to advocate the overthrow of the United States government and with criminal syndicalism.

What effect Secretary of Labor William D. Clegg's ruling that membership in the communist labor party did not constitute grounds for deportation, will have on the trial is problematical. The state contends it will have none as the defendants are American citizens charged with conspiracy.

The outstanding figure of the group in court today was William B. Lloyd, millionaire sergeant-at-arms of the communist labor convention. The son of the late Henry D. Lloyd, said to have been a rich Boston philanthropist, he is a close friend of William D. (Big Bill) Haywood, former secretary-general of the I.W.W.

It is estimated the trial will last three months. Selection of a jury is expected to take from four to six weeks, and to exhaust a venire of 1400 men, as each side will have 400 challenges.

Among the state witnesses will be Ole Hanson, former mayor of Seattle.

REPORT AMERICANS BUY GERMAN STOCK

NEW YORK, May 10.—Cable despatches from Berlin announcing that an American group of financiers had acquired a 26,000,000 mark block of the new stock of the German General Electric Co., aroused interest today in the financial district.

In regard to assumptions in Germany that the American General Electric Co. had bought the block, an official of the American concern stated he had no knowledge of the purchase.

Prior to the war, close business relations existed between the American General Electric Co. and the German General Electric Co., but these relations were said not to have been resumed.

Another American Killed in Mexico

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—Hurly H. Educated Mexicans in Border States to Be Put at Head of Departments

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, May 10.—Should President Carranza be captured by revolutionary troops, he must stand trial in the civil courts for any misdeeds of which he may have been guilty while chief executive, General P. Elias Calles, commander of revolting troops in the northwest announced today. If Carranza escaped from Mexico, the revolutionists would be pleased, however, Calles said.

Calles declared that as Mexico City was in the hands of the revolutionists, troops marching from Sonora to Juarez probably would be sent direct to Mexico City for garrison duty.

A provisional president would be named to serve until the elections, he said, in accordance with the "plan of Agua Prieta."

Educated and qualified Mexicans in Mexican border states, where he declared living conditions were the best in the country as a result of the people coming into contact with American ideals and methods, would be put at the head of various government departments, he said. A plan for establishing schools and educating the people would be launched as soon as the revolution is settled.

BOSTON, May 10.—United States Commissioner Hayes today ruled that when a person is induced by a prohibition agent to buy liquor for him and does not himself profit by the transaction, he does not violate the prohibition laws.

HONORARY MEMBERS FOR BATTERY B

Lowell citizens very evidently intend to back up the new military combat unit which has been assigned here, Battery B of the 26th Division, for honorary memberships have started in with a rush from every section of Lowell.

The first 15 to join the honorary membership rolls of the new battery were: Hon. John Jacob Rogers, Allan C. Sargent of Graniteville, Jude C. Wadleigh, Andrew F. Roach, Representative Henry Achin, Humphrey O'Sullivan, Joseph A. Legare, James O'Sullivan, Michael J. Sharkey, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson, Supt. Gerald Cahill of the United States Cartridge Co., Hon. Erson Barlow, James E. Lyle, Daniel Cosgrove, Capt. Joseph Molloy, Capt. Royal P. White, William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce, and Henry McAlvin.

Recruiting for the new battery will continue all this week and medical examinations will also probably start within a few days. Capt. MacBrayne is waiting to have officers of the medical department assigned for this work.

With the completion of the medical, the 121 men will be mastered into the service together. A smoker is planned for the night when this ceremony is to take place, and Mayor Thompson will be present to make a few remarks.

The official introduction of the battery to the citizens of Lowell will be made when the men are equipped with uniforms, and the first honorary hall will be given to honorary members and friends of the battery. Gov. Conlidge will attend this function, and the event will be a proud one in the history of the new battery.

Battery B will unveil a memorial at the armory on this same night in honor of the men who gave their lives in France.

Tuesday night is expected to be a banner night for enlisting and young men who intend to get into the battery are urged to do so at once in order that they may be sure of places.

Col. Frank S. Perkins is expected to pay an early visit to Lowell to look things over.

Former members of Battery F are requested to attend a meeting Tuesday night of this week at the armory.

Members of Company K Associates are also requested to be present Tuesday night at Battery B headquarters to meet Lieut. McNeerney, one of the new officers of the battery.

Ell Hart, former top sergeant of company K, as well as several other K men, have enlisted in the new battery.

WOMEN SPINNERS STRIKE

About a dozen women spinners employed at the Boot mills went out on strike this morning after being refused an increase in wages, so they claimed. The strikers also claimed that their machines were speeded too high and that the company refused to decrease the speed. Agent Thomas stated this noon that the speed matter was settled last Thursday and that the question of an increase in wages was being considered by the company.

TOO WEAK TO DO ANYTHING

A Serious Feminine Illness Remedied By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Casco, Wis.—"After the birth of each of my children I had displacement and was so weak I couldn't do anything."

I found a book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it, and after taking it I soon felt better. That was fifteen years ago and I have felt well ever since except that I had a slight attack of the trouble some time ago and took some more of your Compound and was soon all right again. I always recommend your medicine and you may publish my testimonial for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. JULIA BERO, Jr., R. 1, Box 99, Casco, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ailments in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Mrs. Bero's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

THE ONE-MAN CAR IN THE MOVIES

As part of a program of education prior to the advent of the new one-man electric cars on the local division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. next Sunday, a motion picture film will be shown at the usual performances at B. F. Keith's theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Manager Pickett gladly consented to show the picture for Manager Thomas Lees of the Bay State division.

The picture in question has been shown in all cities on the system that have one-man cars in operation and it has been of great help in educating the public in the proper use of these latest traction features. The film takes about 15 minutes' time and shows the proper way to enter and leave one of the cars; how the car is controlled, and many other details that people might be bothered with before the newness wears off.

Manager Lees received the film today from Salem where it was shown last week just prior to the operation of one-man cars there. The picture was shown in Lawrence week before last, as that city began to operate the new cars on Wednesday, May 5.

Will Launch Drive Tonight

tional headquarters, with the balance remaining in Lowell to carry on the work for the current year.

In preparation for the local end of the campaign a systematic organization has been formed, headed by an executive drive committee, Dudley L. Page, chairman, and Hon. James E. Casey, vice chairman. This committee has met a number of times and has worked out an excellent plan of campaigning. Divisions and companies have been formed, industries have been listed and indexed, arrangements have been made for a great deal of personal solicitation and a house-to-house canvass will comb the city from end to end.

Tonight at the supper at 6.30 o'clock the drive will be officially launched to continue until the 20th. Optimism is everywhere apparent. The Salvation Army counts its friends by the thousands and there is a strong feeling that Lowell folks will not be content to simply raise its quota of $20,000. That is a small sum, indeed, as campaigns run nowadays. People are sick and tired of campaigns, it is said, but no spathy is apparent in relation to this one. Perhaps the war deeds of the army helped to solidify public sympathy and arouse a latent realization of the tremendous amount of self-sacrificial work its members do in days of both war and peace.

The executive committee feels particularly fortunate in regard to tonight's meeting, in securing the services of Col. W. H. Jenkins of New York city as the principal speaker. Col. Jenkins is editor-in-chief of all Salvation Army publications and is expected to bring the torch which will allow the opening guns locally to boom out in a great salvo of enthusiasm.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson will attend the luncheon to introduce Col. Perkins and speak a few words of endorsement of the campaign.

For several days a thorough system of publicity has been in force in the city. Merchants have co-operated with Louis Studley, chairman of the advertising committee, and the result has been evident. Stickers adorn hundreds of automobile windshields, and store windows and other prominent places carry the campaign slogan, "A Man May Be Down, but He Is Never Out."

Beginning tomorrow morning the team workers will spread out into the highways and byways, penetrating into every shop, business and industry and winding up with a visit to the homes. It is hoped that people will not wait to be solicited, but will send their contributions in check or cash form either to drive headquarters in the chamber of commerce rooms in Merrimack square, or to Julian B. Keyes, treasurer, Mechanics Savings bank.

Rebels Hold Mexico City

ican destroyers were en route today to Mexican waters to await eventually and to afford protection to American lives in the Mexican Gulf ports.

Official confirmation of the fall of the Mexican capital was received yesterday by the state department from the American embassy which reported there was no disorder incident to the transfer of authority. Tampico and Vera Cruz also were reported quiet.

The embassy's report made no mention of President Carranza and reports from Vera Cruz said that search in that city had failed to find him. One report was that he had been arrested in Esperanza, state of Vera Cruz, but this was without confirmation here either in official despatches or in advices to revolutionist agents.

Wholesale Slaughter

EL PASO, Tex., May 10.—General Francisco Murgula, Carranza military commander at Mexico City before leaving the capital which now is in complete possession of revolutionary forces, carried out a wholesale slaughter of political prisoners at Santiago, the military prison, according to a bulletin issued at revolutionary headquarters here last night.

Fifteen Mexican generals were among those reported slaughtered. "The city was shocked over this bloody episode for the Carranza regime," the bulletin said.

Obregon In Control

WASHINGTON, May 10.—An official telegram from Vera Cruz received at the state department yesterday says a wireless message from Mexico City, announces that President Carranza left Mexico City and that General Obregon has taken complete possession of the city.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 10.—The federal garrison at Vera Cruz, consisting of approximately 500 well-armed and equipped soldiers, went over to the revolutionists early yesterday, according to apparently reliable, but unofficial advices received here last night.

Presiding Carranza, the advices said, was hiding in Vera Cruz, and his arrest was momentarily expected. The report which came through what is considered a reliable source, said the

MANIAC SHOTS GIRL AND SETS FIRE TO HOUSES

BANGOR, Me., May 10.—George Stanchfield, 34, of Vassal, who was released on parole from the Bangor state hospital for the insane on April 25, terrorized this town early yesterday morning, burning property valued at $30,000 and $30,000 and attempting to kill Mary Louise Greenleaf, 26, with whom he had been keeping company. The girl was brought to the Eastern Maine hospital in Bangor where it is said that she will recover.

Stanchfield was captured in a barn in the outskirts of Vassal by a posse of citizens who were assisting Sheriff Fernandez in the search. He once escaped from his captors and threatened them with a shotgun, but later was retaken in the nearby woods.

Stanchfield had been keeping company with the Greenleaf girl for two years, when, in the fall of 1918, Miss Greenleaf refused him admittance to the house because he was suffering from influenza. He took offense at this and the courtship was broken up.

Shortly before 1 o'clock two charges were fired from a shotgun through the lower bedroom of the house of Benjamin Greenleaf, half a mile distant from the scene of the fire, and Miss Greenleaf, who was asleep in bed with her mother, was struck by part of the first charge, the lower part of her left ear being torn away, her face furrowed and the mastoid bone fractured. Suspicion at once fell upon Stanchfield and Sheriff Fernandez and posse, aided by citizens, began a search of the village and surrounding woods, resulting in his capture about 9 o'clock in a barn, where he had hidden in the hay. At the jail here he confessed to the sheriff that he had set the fire, and shot the Greenleaf girl, "because she went back on him."

ISSUES WARNING TO AUTO OWNERS

A warning to auto owners that they must not leave their machines on the streets unlighted at night has been issued by Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department. The owners of such unlighted machines at night will be arrested for obstructing the street and be subject to a fine.

The state law in this respect is that all vehicles parked on a street at night must have all their lights going, but the police have been and will be lenient and will require that the vehicles be partially lighted.

Supt. Welch said that one week would be allowed from this warning, but "after that time," he said, "I will instruct the police officers to insist upon the lighting of vehicles stopped on the streets at night and to take action if the owners refuse to comply."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow eyes, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"

Presented by Young Women Under Auspices of Catholic Women's League

"Alice in Wonderland," a classic for ages among children's stories, was given a most enjoyable and artistic presentation at the Colonial theatre in Middlesex street Saturday afternoon by a group of young women under the auspices of the League of Catholic Women. Despite the unfavorable weather, there was a capacity audience.

Saturday's presentation was the first in a series designed by the league to give the children of Lowell an opportunity to witness better class plays. So successful was "Alice in Wonderland" that there were many demands to have it repeated. This will probably be done in the near future.

Directed by Miss Anna Lee Maguire of the Emerson College of Oratory and enhanced by unusually pretty stage settings, the production was effective and enjoyable in every detail.

It was presented in four acts and before each act Miss V. Pearl Atkinson, also of the Emerson College of Oratory, read the story in a manner that helped to bring out the details and salient features of the plot. Her work added much to the success of the affair.

The play opened with "Alice," Miss Louise Mahoney, lying asleep on a grassy mound. A band of fairies, led by Miss Myrtle Rooney, danced about her and awoke her. Colored incandescents and an attractive setting made the scene most effective. Miss Grace Donohue received much applause for her singing of "Sleep, Alice Sleep."

In this scene, after she had awakened, Alice followed the white rabbit, played by Miss Georgianna Keith, to Wonderland. Miss Donohue as the "black cat" was most amusing.

The second act had to do with the mad tea party in Wonderland. Miss Dorothy McAdams as the dormouse was well received in this act and Miss Agnes Maher as the mad hatter contributed materially to the fun.

The third act was staged in the court of the king and queen of Wonderland whose parts were taken by Miss Katherine Farley and Miss Isabel McQuade, respectively. Miss Lillian Burns as the knave of hearts, Miss Rose D. Leary as the duchess and Miss May Burns as the cook also scored heavily. Miss Rose Geary as the mock turtle and Miss Maguire as the gryphon danced together. The court scene was most effective.

The final scene showed Alice again asleep and this time a group of fairies, led by Miss Dorris Conley, danced around her and brought her back from her dream of Wonderland. Miss Conley's solo dance in this act was well received. Miss Dorris Handley as the march hafe is also deserving of commendation for her handling of that part. Miss Gertrude Sweeney as the executioner and Miss Frances O'Brien and Miss Margaret M. Enwright as guards demonstrated real ability in their parts.

While it would be almost impossible to choose any one character for special mention, if justice were to be done the entire cast, nevertheless, the opportunities afforded by the title role of "Alice" gave Miss Louise Mahoney a chance again to demonstrate exceptional talent for an amateur. Her work was pleasing throughout the entire production.

Miss Myrtle Rooney who directed the dancing of the fairies is also worthy of great credit for her part in the success of the occasion. The dancing proved one of the prettiest features of the production and the children who took part showed the result of exchange gave distinct pleasure.

Miss Maguire as director of the play demonstrated marked ability and gave indications of a most successful career in this line if she chooses to follow it. The league orchestra, under the direction of Miss Marie J. C. O'Donnell, furnished music for the occasion and again gave distinct pleasure.

The children who took the part of fairies in the production were the following: Esther Meloy, Pauline Meloy, Harriet Fleming, Helen Halloran, Dorris Conley, Rosalie Martin, Frances Prevost, Collin Hunt, Lillian Walsh.

Don't Let It Linger

A cough that follows a gripe or any other cough that "hangs" from winter to spring wears down the sufferer, leaving him or her in a weakened state unable to ward off sickness and disease. Jos. Gillard, 115 Fillmore St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I was suffering with a dry, hacking cough and pain in my chest, but since taking Foley's Honey and Tar I have been relieved. It soothes, heals and cures coughs, colds and croup. Good for whooping cough."

DIED OF HIS WOUNDS

Second Victim of Boston Shooting Passes Away in Hospital

BOSTON, May 10.—William C. Sweeney, who was shot and wounded by Frank Mullen, a patrolman, when discovered apparently rifling a desk in a factory office Saturday night, died in a hospital today. Mullen shot and killed Sweeney's companion, Miles P. Dow.

According to Mullen and another officer who accompanied him, one of the men aimed a revolver at them when they switched on the lights and Mullen immediately discharged his own weapon. The police said that Sweeney made a statement before his death, but they declined to give any intimation as to its nature.

Red Blood for Pale People!

A big supply of red blood capsules is what helps to make any man or woman have a healthy, pink complexion and cherry red lips. Resort to paint and powder are totally unnecessary and besides that are harmful. Three-grain hypo-sensitizing tablets, if used regularly for several months, seem to create a greatly added number of millions to the red and white corpuscles of the blood, and not only improve the color, but add increased flesh to the thin and frail body. These tablets promote assimilation, absorption and digestion, and this appended aid to nature's forces transforms the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physicians, but being of a perfectly harmless character, self-administration is being followed by many, who obtain them direct from any well-stocked apothecary shop.

LITTLE CHANGE IN NEW BEDFORD MILL STRIKE

NEW BEDFORD, May 10.—The strike at 13 of the New Bedford textile corporations entered on its second week today, with little change in the situation. Labor leaders strengthened their pocket lines at all the mills this morning but the manufacturers anticipate the return of a large number of operatives who were idle last week, building their hopes on the action of the firemen's union in repudiating the strike.

Although the yarn departments of the mills are operating with a fair percentage of the operatives at work, labor leaders declare that if the workers hold firm for another week, the mills will be forced to close down.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED
Michael Driscoll, of 37 Bennington street, East Boston, suffered a laceration of his upper left thigh yesterday afternoon when the motorcycle he was operating crashed through a fence near Sprague's bridge in Billerica. The motorcycle was badly wrecked. The accident occurred when Driscoll swung his machine quickly in order to avoid crashing into another machine. He was treated at St. John's hospital.

The total increase in the coal bill for the railroads in the next year is estimated to be $30,000,000.

AMERICAN LEGION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—Leo A. Spillane, state adjutant of the Massachusetts department of the American Legion, today announced the program to be carried out next week in the membership drive in which 71,000 new names must be added to the rolls if the movement is to be a success.

The drive is in conjunction with others being made in every state in the Union to increase the membership in the organization to 100 per cent. of those eligible. It will last from May 17 to 23. In Massachusetts, it is estimated, there are 183,000 men and women who saw service and of these 130,000 already are enrolled. Every one of the others, it is hoped, will be brought in.

The means to be used will be personal solicitation and publicity in each community under the direction of a "push" committee, consisting of five members. The president, the governor and the mayor of each city will be asked to issue a proclamation designating the period American Legion week.

Co-operation in the drive will be asked of the Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, War Camp Community Service and other organizations interested in the work. Posters and cards will be placed in the stores of the merchants. On the motion picture screen the invitation will be extended. Mass meetings will be held, and sermons from the pulpit will be employed. Women solicitors and, if possible, telephone girls while at work will also aid the movement. A citizens' committee will co-operate with the "push" committee. This will consist of about 20 members and will include men and women representing every form of municipal or county activity. All walks of life will be represented.

In sending out the instructions, Adjutant Spillane says:

"Personal solicitation I look upon as the most efficacious method of making the drive a success. I want every post adjutant to impress upon the members that it is his business to make the push a success. Everybody should understand that publicity will accomplish nothing unless post members are out on the ground taking advantage of the publicity. It is up to the individual member to do his part and from what I have seen I think he will. I am sure that we will attain the end we are striving for. HOYT."

THE CRESCENT HILL ASSOCIATES

The Crescent Hill Association, Inc., will repeat the successful minstrel show it staged recently on the afternoon and evening of May 13 at the Opera House. It was voted at a meeting of the organization held last evening. Proceeds of the affair will go toward building of a clubhouse. Various routine matters were acted upon at last evening's meeting. Two applications for membership were received and referred to the investigating committee. The social committee reported what the recent minstrel show and dance was a complete success and the athletic committee indicated that the association will have a strong team on the diamond this summer. The annual election of officers of the association will be held Thursday, May 20.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS FOR THE FARMS

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—Governor Coolidge today asked every school superintendent in the state to co-operate with the department of agriculture in its efforts to add to the food supply through the employment of high school boys on farms, now that agricultural labor is so scarce.

The letter in which the request is made reads as follows:

"The commissioner of agriculture reports that there is a greater shortage of farm labor in Massachusetts and in New England than at any time during the war.

"Unless some relief is furnished food production will be greatly reduced; many farms not being worked at all and many others only to a limited degree.

"For the past three years high school boys have greatly relieved the situation and their services will be in even greater demand this season. With the co-operation of parents and school officials the department of agriculture could place hundreds of boys in good positions that would materially increase food production. Such boys would be placed upon farms or in farm camps under proper supervision, following the plan carried out by the Massachusetts committee on public safety during the war. I most earnestly urge your co-operation towards the securing of this important relief."

As indicated by the governor's letter, the youths either live on the farm at which they are employed or else form a part of a camp, working in the surrounding neighborhood. They are paid a wage that makes it well worth their while to engage in the work during their vacations.

In the summer of 1918, there were 3500 boys placed by the committee on school boys for farm service, a subordinate unit of the public safety committee. A total of 900 of the youths were placed in 20 camps in various sections of the state, the number in each camp ranging from 25 to 110.

The work is in charge of Stephen R. Dow, who has been at its head since the undertaking was first started in 1917. Mr. Dow states that the demand for farm labor is more pressing now than during the war. He is confident that the results attained will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to the people.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL AT CRESCENT RINK

At a meeting of officials of the recent Irish bond drive held last evening in Hibernian hall plans were made for an athletic carnival at the Crescent rink on the evening of May 31. Well known local athletes will take part in a program of wrestling and boxing. Plans were also made for a testimonial to be given campaign workers in the near future.

The team captains and district chairmen present were instructed to see that outstanding pledges of the campaign are paid as promptly as possible. Subscribers may make their payments directly to the Lowell Trust Co. or to the chairman of their district.

The Call'em

Joe Woodman, who piloted Sam Langford for many years believes he can contend for the welterweight championship in Harlem Eddie Kelly of New York. The latter is in hard training for prospective bouts and while he has a chance to campaign in England and tentative offers to meet Young Kibby in Providence, he is holding off until he can get a definite report from Jack Britton, the present titleholder.

An Undeclared Champion
Speaking of boxers, it is said that Ben and has just about decided that he cannot longer make the lightweight limit and automatically passes into the welter division, where he will head for the title. Ben has recently left the ranks of the lightweights, he retires an undefeated champion and a fighting marvel. Perhaps Woodman would do well to send Harlem Eddie Kelly against Leonard before he insists upon a definite answer from Britton.

Why Not Hire Johnny Everett?
Presumably to get a line on the strength of this year's Lowell high school nine, Coach Sidley, with four of his players, watched the Lowell-Commerce game at Spaulding park last Friday afternoon. Regular big league stuff, eh? If they were on the line in the state championship, it would be a very faint line, hardly discernible, in fact.

Flying—New College Sport
The first annual meet of the Intercollegiate Flying club is now history. Yale's aviators won by scoring nine points, three points more than the freshmen of Columbia totalled. Before long we may expect flashes over the wire saying "Yale beat Harvard at flying today, 10 to 6." Why not? The first intercollegiate meet has already been held and it is very probable that aviation will be placed upon the list of college sports, first as a minor and later as a major. With colleges giving letters to the team members, perhaps life insurance policies will be substituted.

How About Getting Out an Extra?
When Wilda was described prior to his fight in Lawrence, or rather his romp against Bobby Dyson, energetic press agents said he was a second edition of Jim Driscoll. Now comes along Fred Jacks, English featherweight champion and also a second edition of the great Driscoll, but—be sure to get the "but"—he can punch harder than Driscoll. There is a little mix-up there on two second editions, but perhaps Jacks would consent to be listed as a "third."

Something's Gone Wrong
In the American League at the present writing the first division holds two teams that were supposed to be there and two that were not. "Experts" said Chicago and Cleveland were favored entries, but Boston and Washington would do well if they didn't fall out of the league. The same holds true in the second division which holds New York and Detroit, but—be sure to get the "but"—they would be up in the select quarter. What's wrong? Is it too early to have the dope swing round to its proper alignment or has it been upset by the steady play of the despised Red Sox?

SUNDAY SPORT

Watertown Pastor Favors Games on the Sabbath

WATERTOWN, May 10.—Rev. Henry H. O'Leary, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Episcopal), announced from the pulpit yesterday that he was unqualifiedly in favor of Sunday baseball of the non-commercial sort. The question of Sunday sports would avail itself of the legislative authority to permit this amateur amusement.
Mr. O'Leary, who is a Boy Scout master and an enthusiastic advocate of outdoor sports, was preaching on the necessity for systematic rest and clean recreation and expressed to say:
"The question of Sunday baseball in this community may be decided soon. You have a right to know where your pastor stands in this matter. I am unqualifiedly in favor of Sunday baseball of a non-commercial and non-commercial character. I ardently hope that it will be legalized. In the first place, assuming, as I do not admit, that it is opposed to the teachings of Christianity, the church has no right to force the people to be religious. Membership in society implies an obligation to respect the rights of others, but it does not carry an obligation to conform one's conduct to tenets to which he may not subscribe."

SAYS EVERY REAL MAN LIKES TO SEE A FIGHT

CHICAGO, May 10.—Declaring that in "every real man there is the instinct to fight," Charles K. Brown, dean of the school of oration at Yale university, told the Sunday evening club last night that "for centuries men have been willing to pay more to see a good prize fight than for any other form of entertainment."
"I have always been interested in these contests," he continued, "I have never seen a pugilistic encounter, but from the days of Sullivan and Kilrain, I have always been an interested reader of the paper the morning after they take place."
"I believe the man who denies the natural lure of a spirited conflict, whether between two men or two companies of men, or two great armies, is in some manner lacking. The fighting instinct is inherent in most of us in whom red blood still courses."

HORNSBY AND JACKSON LEADING BATTERS

CHICAGO, May 10.—Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, is showing the way to the batters of the National league with an average of .469, and Lebrun of Philadelphia .375 is runner up, according to averages including games of Wednesday.
Hornsby has been at bat 63 times in 15 games, hitting 29 hits for a total of 38 bases. In this collection he bagged six doubles and one home run. He has been showing much speed on the paths, having registered 12 runs.
Ed Hinson of Cincinnati who held the batting honors of the league last season, gradually is getting his stride. He headed his average to .262, 46 points within a week of Hornsby.

Robertson of Chicago leads in home runs with three.
Joe Jackson, the Chicago slugger, continues to top the batters in the American league who have participated in 10 or more games. There are three batters in the "100" class, headed by Jackson with 104; Johnston, Cleveland is second with 408, and Weaver, Chicago 3rd, with 401, Scott of Boston has 328.

"Eddie" Ruth of New York, celebrating his return to the game by cracking out two home runs. The home run king has a batting average of .281 for 13 games, having made 12 hits in 45 times at bat. His hits, besides the two home runs, include a triple and three doubles.
Ty Cobb, who held the batting championship last season, is rounding into form and has boosted his mark from .182 to .214 within a week.

THE THRILLS OF THE GARDENERS LIFE

The following article having to do with gardens is contributed by the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics:
What thrills we are daily experiencing as we note that the seeds which we planted a short time ago are germinating and breaking through the surface of the ground! Cultivation should start in the garden as soon as the seedlings have come up sufficiently so that the rows can be seen. Cultivation should be frequent and thorough. The home gardener should stir the soil at least twice a week with a rake, hoe, or garden cultivator. One should aim to stir the soil after each rain. The ideal is blanket, or loose, dry soil upon the surface, commonly known as dust mulch. This dust mulch breaks up the capillary tubes and prevents the too rapid evaporation of the moisture in the soil. There probably will not be as much rainfall from now on as formerly. Therefore all good farmers and home gardeners will attempt to retain all the moisture possible in the soil, as sufficient moisture is as important a factor in successful gardening as is a good seed. Weed seedlings also are killed by this frequent cultivation. They are eradicated very easily at this early stage of their growth. A week later and twice as much work will be necessary to accomplish the same result. Level cultivation should be practiced on all crops with the possible

Lettuce and Cabbage Plants

Lettuce and cabbage plants can be purchased at many of the seed stores and nearby commercial gardeners. It is well to put in a limited amount of them at the present time so as to furnish an early crop before the plants wilt that are grown in the garden from seeds.
Transplanting
Many of the tomato plants and other plants being grown in the cold frame or seed box in the house are ready for transplanting. As soon as the third and fourth leaves make their appearance, transplanting should start. When transplanting, be careful not to disturb the root system. The small root hairs are very tender and should not be broken off any more than is necessary. A large amount of the dirt which adheres to the seedling should be taken up and moved with the plant. In order to have as much dirt adhere to the root system as possible the plants should be watered thoroughly a few hours before they are transplanted.

HELD BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was given in honor of Master James Williams on Friday evening at his home in 592 Lakeview avenue. During the evening the many friends and relatives present enjoyed themselves with games and vicrola selections. It was Master Williams' eleventh birthday. He received many useful presents and from his father and mother he received a handsome silver ring with initials engraved upon it. The boy was heartily congratulated by his friends and well-wishers.

"PAINLESS" GAVEL IS JUST THE THING!

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Vice President Marshall promises to use the anesthetic properties of his new "painless" gavel during further discussion in the senate on the League of Nations. He says it should render painless such operations as the senate may wish to make upon the body of the League and avoid the agonies of the recent debate. Because said gavel, presented to Marshall by Representative Thomas M. Bell of Georgia, was made from the famous mulberry tree in Jefferson county, Ga., under which Dr. Crawford Long performed the first painless surgical operation through the use of an anesthetic, March 30, 1842.

LABOR LEADERS RAP COOLIDGE FOR VETO

BOSTON, May 10.—Gov. Coolidge is requested to "walk humbly and keep his ears to the ground" in a three-page letter sent to him Saturday by a committee of 10 men holding prominent offices in the Massachusetts state branch, A. F. of L., and the Boston Central Labor union, in which they sharply criticize his vetoing the 2.75 per cent. beer bill, sponsored by the state branch.

The letter, in part, says: "We have read your dissertation on the law and the constitution contained in your veto of the so-called 2.75 per cent. beer bill in which you say, 'There is little satisfaction in attempting to deceive ourselves.'"

Permit us to say that if any deception has been attempted in securing the passage of this bill it was by somebody outside of the humble petitioners who asked the legislature to enact it.

This legislation was based upon a petition of the undersigned, representing ing set alone the great bulk of the workmen of this state, but many others who believed that the state was well within its rights in passing such an act.

You also say, "If this act were placed upon the statute books today it would provide no beer for the people." Maybe the wish was father to the thought.

By voting as they did, the members of the legislature merely put a precautionary measure on the statute books and neither phrases nor overworked appeals for the "upholding of the law and order" convince the public that the petitioners or the legislators who passed the act are guilty of nullification.

We heartily endorse your statement that "it is better to proceed with candor" on this very important matter. Candor compels us to state that the people of Massachusetts have shown in many ways, since the passage of the 18th amendment and the Volstead law, that those who craved them down their throats did not honestly represent them in this matter of vital importance to every citizen of the land, restraining them in their personal liberty and subjecting them to espionage and car-like methods in administering the law.

You declare that this act "does not even pretend to be an act to enforce the 18th amendment." We never claimed that it was. It deals with non-intoxicating liquors—harmless beverages which the people have a right to enjoy if they so elect without let or hindrance from meddlesome busybodies whose chief aim in life is to regulate the tastes and habits of everybody but themselves, on the theory that they know what is good and bad for their fellow-citizens.

There are still a few old-fashioned people in Massachusetts who continue to hold to the belief that the state has not surrendered all its police powers to the national government.

Both pictures are recent productions and are exceptionally strong. "The Cup of Fury" has Helen Chadwick as the leading actress and she finds excellent opportunity to reflect her rare accomplishments. The usual high class comedy and weekly will also be shown.

NEW YORK TAKES NEW SONG TO ITS METROPOLITAN HEART

Sounds serious, doesn't it? But only to sweethearts. Seldom do lovers find more delightful music and words in a song that appeals to them and the uncertain aspect of Love. "Drifting" is sweeping like a cyclone over the country and the roads. The charming refrain will answer that.

DRIFTING

Drifting, drifting, down the stream, like a leaf on the water,
I smile while bright eyes beam, I don't care where
I drift to, if I'm only drifting with you,
Drifting, drifting, down the stream, like a leaf on the water.

The secret of this song's popularity seems to lie in the fact that it is aimed to bring out the voice, containing a number of harmonious notes, though no high notes. The melody blends charmingly with the lyrics and leaves a profound impression on the hearer. This song is splendidly recorded on all phonographs and player pianos.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Mary Miles Minter in "Jenny He Good," the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for the first half of the week, shows a distinct growth in her art. From a child actress of more than ordinary claim, she has grown into a talented young woman with all the qualifications necessary for a most successful career. "Jenny He Good" is a splendid vehicle for the star for it gives her a well-rounded part, calling for emotion, acting, and the finest type. Other good things on the current program include Claire Whitney in "Mothers of Men," a comedy, and "The International News" and a Chester Outing picture.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

It would be wholly unfair to give more than the most vague looking at the story told in "In the Dark," the melodramatic mystery playlet to be headed at the B. F. Keith theatre, beginning this afternoon and continuing throughout the week. Fifty per cent of the pleasure of witnessing it would go if one were to know in advance just what its novelty consisted of. But it isn't at all melodramatic, as that is said. It is a mixture of comedy and drama, and there is a touch of farce to which the present company is well adapted. It will all be in the dark to the patrons of this theatre.

Harry Anger, who used to have a very funny part in "The School Playground," and Netta Packer, who was formerly connected with that musical hit, "Listen, Lester," will give a snappy potpourri based on phases of life under the white lights of the metropolis. These two very clever persons call themselves "character humorists," and Anger presents the character of an old stage who thinks he is now a "single" woman. I. e. she gives the entire act and scores admirably with it. She is known everywhere as "The Lady Dainties of England," judging by reports which have come from Morothy Brenner, formerly one of a pair of comedy performers, but usually the better half of that pair, is now a "single" woman. I. e. she gives the entire act and scores admirably with it. She is known everywhere as "The Lady Dainties of England," judging by reports which have come from many places she is at the head of her class. She is a pretty and perfectly excellent girl in the dedication of song types. It isn't every woman who can put into a song all that goes to make that song a thing of beauty. Brenner can, and she will show many glimpses of a most pleasing personality.

Do you want to know what the "song and dance man" in the year 2003 will be like, how he will sing, how he will dance, how he will act, what his general attitude will be? Masters and Kraft will at least give their prophetic interpretation. First they will show the kind of comedians that please the old Egyptians, many centuries ago. Then will come the kind we know so well which they believe will be the type of the world more than a hundred years hence. It is an odd concept, but why say that it will not prove true?

Sylvia Loyal in her woodland play, a very pretty act. Seventy pigeons fly above the party in this beautiful picture. And it is also does some astounding things. Sylvia Loyal has got together an act that is really a thing of beauty. The usual run. The Gerald's are very good. The Four Castles picture. Topics of the Day. News Kinggrams will also be shown.

THE OWL THEATRE

You will want to see "The Deep Purple" just as many Boston people have seen it when it has just finished a long run. The picture is now from the play of the same name by Paul Armstrong, the noted criminologist, and Wilson Mizner, who had a run of more than a year in New York.

"The Deep Purple" is a play of crook life but in this picture it will lift you up out of the underworld, into the life of an innocent young girl, who is one of Broadway's glittering celebrities. Better than was taken out of them, and into a picture of life, you'll want to see it if you've seen "The Miracle Man." You'll want to see it if you haven't seen that famous picture. You'll want to see "The Deep Purple" because it was made by the same people who made "The Miracle Man." This picture is the second of the series and it is one of the best things on the screen today. It has an all-star cast, headed by Miriam Cooper, who played in "The Birth of a Nation." "Intolerance," "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and other big features. Helen Ware is another big feature of the cast. She played in "The Third Degree," also "The Price," which played in the city for a long time. Serrano plays the heavy in this picture. He was in "Arizona," "A Little Sister," "The Rich," and "De Luxe." Brother of the Rich and "De Luxe" stars. It is even now delighting New York audiences in Joseph Lancini's new play, "The Knickerbocker." Bird Millman is a vaudeville and circus star. You'll want to see her perform in the cabaret scene in "The Deep Purple." It is a most interesting and absorbing story. The picture is now at 42nd street, where the Ziegfeld Frolics draw crowds every night.

This picture will stay all week at the Owl, and you can see it for the usual price. Other big ones will follow it. For instance, next week, Anita Stewart in the play that is now at four Boston theatres, "In Old Kentucky," will be the attraction. "The Woman Gives," Norma Talmadge's latest, "The River's End," a play that is attracting the attention of the newspaper critics of the picture, "Back to God's Country," and other big ones.

Manaker Joe Mack has drawn on his long experience at pleasing audiences at the Owl, and he has a picture that is kept scrupulously clean, good music, and decorations and the utmost courtesy from all the trained attendants. Performances continuous, starting at 10 p. m.

Two offerings in one will be the attraction at the Owl House. On the coming week, besides the presentation of Helen Kraft and Frank Mandel's roaring comedy by the Lowell Players, the management has secured, at big expense and for exclusive use, the Kloby-Britt boxing pictures and also the new "Dyson" bout pictures. These should have a strong appeal to the menfolk, and in view of the fact that they are the best and cleanest of the kind, they are sure to be interesting to the womenfolk as well. Jimmy Wilde is the heavyweight champion of the world, and Dyson is the recognized champion of the light. Kloby and Britt are also recognized champions in their respective classes.

The "High Cost of Loving" is said to be one of the best comedy attractions of recent years. Lew Field was featured in it during the original run and scored one of his biggest stage hits. The story of the piece has to do with the fussy wife of a mustard king of Milwaukee, who is desirous of having his husband join the Purple Heart. He refuses at first but when informed that the only ones immune from investigation as to their past are members of the league, he makes haste to join the ranks. Incidentally, he induces his three friends to join with him. The movie starts out fun and complications follow, one after another in quick succession—complications and adventures that provide no end of funmaking, climax at the close. Miss Marquise Fields

REGISTRAR FINDS AUTOISTS BLAMELESS

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 10.—Giuseppe Valeroli of Lowell has been found blameless in connection with the fatal automobile accident of March 25, which resulted in the death of Alfred W. Schmidt of Billerica, and his license to operate motor vehicles in this state, suspended immediately after the accident, has been reinstated.

The decision was made by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, after a full investigation of all the circumstances surrounding the accident.

Another accident in which the operator has been cleared of blame is that which occurred March 24, and which resulted in the death of Frank H. Alexander of Billerica. The driver of the automobile in this case was John A. Holman of Billerica, and he has been notified that he is once more in good standing and may resume operation of his automobile.

Senator Hiram Johnson says that the man who mentions him for the vice presidency is no friend of his. Has the senator so quickly forgotten the days when the vice presidential chair was the ultimate of his political dreams?

Some people in Boston must have queer tastes, if it is true, as seems to be indicated by a recently enacted law, that workers in bakeries have been sleeping upon kneading boards with wads of dough as pillows.

A substantial prize ought to be offered to the person who will invent a method of making that Boston & Maine station tower clock comply with the law and at the same time point to the hours as they are reckoned in Lowell.

It ought to be about time to hear from that committee of distinguished citizens—men and women—who were selected by Chairman Hays a while ago to furnish "suggestions" for the republican platform. The waste basket is tired of yawning for those particular "suggestions."

The tenth annual report of the Boy Scouts shows that much has been accomplished by the Scouts in their good work for others; but the boys themselves have been the chief gainers. At present, the organization of Boy Scouts numbers 543,564 members and there are 136,524 Scout officials, committees and others helping in the good work. It is a splendid organization.

POLISH VICTORY

The friends of freedom will rejoice at the victories of the Poles and Ukrainians over the Bolsheviks in Russia. It is to be hoped that these two united nations, having just won their independence, will not incur the risk of losing it by advancing too far into the enemies' country. All they should do is to impress the followers of Trotsky and Lenin with their power by taking a few strongholds sufficient to enable them repel future attacks.

A RETURN TO OLD METHODS

Lowell once had hundreds of corporation-owned homes. The mills then not only found a place for their employees to work in, but they supplied a place in which they could live.

It is interesting to note that there is now beginning in different parts of the country a return to the conditions of years ago. Big industrial corporations have begun to find out that the passing of anti-rent profiteering laws and attempts of philanthropists to provide homes for the people they employ, are not a pronounced success. Many men and women are being kept from work, and employers are held back from expanding their plants as they would like to, because sufficient housing accommodations are not available.

Several of the country's largest industries are, therefore, taking pattern after the methods of the government during the war and are erecting attractive, well-designed and thoroughly built homes for their workers, and are renting them at reasonable prices or selling them for payments on the installment plan. This has the appearance of a combination of business, common sense and a little practical philanthropy. It may prove a potent factor in helping solve a problem that is a very real one and of grave importance in some parts of the country.

THE WATER RATES

We have now heard no less than three reports on the condition of the water department which should be enough to convince the public that in order to put the system on a paying basis, a material increase in rates is necessary. Although the present rates are considered as high as they should be, under ordinary conditions. But it must be remembered that we have a very expensive system, one that will continually call for large expenditures, because the water must be pumped from the earth to the filtration plant, then to the Sixth street pumping station and thence to the reservoir. At all stages, the iron in the water is eating up the pipes, and the pumps, and this explains why we have to buy so many new pumps and why we have to renew our iron service pipes so frequently. It would cost a large amount to connect us with the Clinton water supply, the reservoir of which is sufficiently high over our local elevations to give us ample water pressure in any part of the city. This, however, is a matter that will engage the attention of experts in the near future and what concerns us most at the present time is the new rates per 1000 feet of water. Commissioner Salmon felt that a change from 5000 feet at $8 to 6000 feet at $12 would bring the desired remedy. That would be an increase of 25 per cent, but the Chamber of Commerce thinks a 30 per cent increase is necessary. We are inclined to believe that the 25 per cent increase is as much as the people will stand at the present time. It means an increase of 45 per cent within three years. That with economy should bring the revenues back to what they should be.

FORTUNE TELLERS

Through some oversight on the part of the police, or perhaps because there is no law to fit the case, Lowell is just now the happy hunting ground of a considerable number of fortune tellers, second sight workers, seers and other public nuisances, to use the mildest descriptive term that seems available. Within not much over half a mile of Merrimack square are at least a half dozen of them. They are usually located on the main thoroughfares, and their efforts to attract trade are quite ingenious.

The business of these charlatans, at first thought, seems harmless. But it has proved otherwise. Cases have already appeared in police court wherein it has been proved that the new-comers to the city have exercised undoubted powers of separating other people from their lawful possessions, and in addition to the instances of cheating and stealing that have been made public, there have doubtless been many more of which no public record is made.

There is also the feature that there are still a considerable number of persons who have implicit belief in these fakers. Their statements are often the cause of setting in motion by suggestions of one form or another a train of suspicions and misunderstandings that seriously menace the peace, and often disrupt families. The ouija board is sometimes used to help in deceiving the unwary.

It would seem worth while for the police to look a little further into the statute books and see if there is not a legal method by which the city can be rid of the undesirable presence of these visitors.

GET TOGETHER

Mr. Payson Smith, state commissioner of education, at a meeting of teachers in Lowell a few days ago, emphasized as one of the great needs of the day the spirit of "get-togetherness."

Back among the hills and valleys of New England there still exists a spirit of neighborliness that has well-nigh been crushed out of existence in the cities. If a man or woman is sick in the district, the whole neighborhood knows of it and is ready to help in every possible way the afflicted ones. Instead of the trained nurse of the cities, some motherly woman, who perhaps has known her patient from childhood, steps in to minister at the bedside. If an uninsured house burns, if a farmer has a long spell of hard luck, the other farmers dig deep into their pockets to make up the loss. This is all done as a matter of course and not as something unusual.

In the city we take care of unfortunate in other ways, but they are not the ways that make for neighborliness.

The radicalism and the unrest of the present time are due in some measure to the fact that we, as a people, are divided by boundaries of one kind or another that keep us from getting acquainted. The capitalist blames the laboring man for what he considers unjust demands, and the toiler on his part thinks of his employer as an enemy whose interests are all in opposition to his own. This is all wrong.

The spirit of "get-togetherness," of which Dr. Smith spoke, will go far toward changing this condition. Unless the present unrest is to continue, neighborliness must come back into its own again. The employer must know more about the way in which his employees live, and must attempt to get their viewpoints on things that are of common interest. There must be a general realization that we are all embarked in the same boat, on the self-same voyage, and that we must all pull together to reach the haven of safety.

PARTY PLATFORMS

Probably moved by the appeals of Chairman Hays of the national republican committee for material for a party platform, the National Association of Manufacturers has decided to prepare a Platform for American industry to be submitted to both parties for use in the construction of their national platforms. The keynote of that platform will be the need of increased production and how to attain it. That is the great question of the hour and the views of the manufacturers upon such an important problem should receive respectful consideration.

In view of present conditions and recent experience, the manufacturers realize that it is necessary to cut away from the hackneyed generalities and get down to something definite and specific.

The manufacturers want more prompt railroad service, they want raw material at reasonable rates; and they want to be free to continue their business so long as they pay fair wages and comply with the laws of the state and federal governments.

Very justly they believe that the literacy test is operating against the best interests of the country, that a man's general fitness to become a good citizen is of greater importance than the ability to read and write our language. In reference to the immigrants, the Manufacturers' Association wisely suggests that the elevation of aliens to citizenship should be attended with formal and impressive ceremonies calculated to give the applicants for citizenship some idea of the significance of this function of the court. Another suggestion is, that a supervisor of highways be chosen to develop the truck highways between great cities in order to keep them in proper condition all the year round.

These proposals may not appeal to the republican leaders as likely to win votes; but they will be put forward for their practical worth to the country at large. This "Platform of Industry" is intended to meet the demands of employer as well as employed, and in that aspect alone will it be acceptable from a political standpoint.

If the platform to be adduced by the manufacturers, be not acceptable to organized labor, it is probable that the head officials of the American Federation of Labor will submit a few suggestions of their own.

The two political parties will diverge principally on the League of Nations, which the republicans will take with the Lodge reservations.

That the democratic party will accept President Wilson's policy of favoring the League of Nations without reservations of any kind is very doubtful. It was noticeable that most of the democratic senators were willing to stand with the republicans for ratification with the reservations, but not otherwise. The democratic party will not take the stand that the League of Nations can ever serve the purposes of the Monroe Doctrine, and on this, at least, reservations will be insisted upon, despite the stand of the president.

On other questions, the party will stand upon its great record of achievement; and in this respect the republicans have little to show for the period during which they have been in control of congress. They have been trying to find evidence of corruption in the management of the war but their criticism in this line, however perverted, is not likely to appeal to the people as anything above the most commonplace political claptrap.

And It Didn't Rain

Daniel P. McAuley of Clinton, talking with the members of an automobile party getting ready for a ride, said that whenever he carried an umbrella in doubtful weather it never rained. They were a little worried about the weather and asked him if he would carry his umbrella all that afternoon, and to make sure of it every one chipped in a dollar. So Mr. McAuley got $7 for carrying his umbrella around with him from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m. and it never rained a drop.

Lowell Was First

Students at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh installed a radio transmitter in Central hall to send out the music of an orchestra playing in the hall to scores of radio students in the district listening in. Prof. Rath, hearing the music in the experiment station of the university, half a mile away, succeeded by the use of a magnavox—an instrument to increase the sound from a radio receiver—and two strings of electric wires, in passing it on a half-mile to the Helms house, where students danced at it.

Such Is Life

"In these days, when by oft reiterated woman has almost established beyond possibility of doubt her equality, if not superiority over man, it is good, indeed, to find an evidence to the contrary," says Squire Abner Harrington. "There was a time, years and years ago, in this country, when men gave to women their seats in crowded street cars."

"Then came an era of equal chances for the vacant seats."

"Now the order changed and man becomes the dominant sex."

"It was yesterday I saw a gentleman, who may have been a plumber or a banker—at least one of the higher classes—generally and with firmness elbow a woman with two children and three packages into a corner of the car while he appropriated a vacated seat."

"Of course, it might be argued the woman was handicapped by impediments."

"That is true."

"Yet I feel that, could my critics have seen the gentleman, they would endorse my opinion that in a free fight he could and would have adjudicated the matter in his own favor."

"Truly we may detect the signs of a new day when man will triumph and be exalted over woman."

"Tomorrow may bring us to this new item:

"John Doe, arrested Tuesday and charged with malicious destruction of property, pleaded not guilty in police court yesterday. Doe, it was said, had broken a window in a Blank street car. The defendant admitted the act, but pleaded that he had been compelled to push Miss Mary Roe's head through the window to prevent her taking a seat he had selected. He was sharply reprimanded before his release."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Major Perry D. Thompson admits he is enjoying his period in office. In the word of T. R., "he's having a bully time."

Now that the Locks and Canals has granted the city's request to acquire the First street oval through the medium of a three-year lease and then absolute purchase, it is to be hoped that the municipal council will lose no time in consideration of the petition of the chamber of commerce relative to the re-location of the boulevard so as not to dissect the land in question. This probably will not be difficult to do, for already it is informally understood that a change in location will be favored by the county commissioners and state highway commission. Once the thread of the road is changed, the question will then come before the city in a different form—what is to be done to it? It is sure that the high school authorities and others will make an earnest plea to have part of the plot set aside for a school athletic field and devise ways and means of raising the necessary money to finance the scheme.

All the students of the university extension courses have recently received the News Letter for the month of May which deals with home-making and the courses which are given under that subject by the state. There are many university extension students in this city and they have found the monthly letters sent out by Mr. Meyer to be very interesting and instructive. Moreover they are written in a very appealing style. The letter for May is in part as follows:

"Beautiful homes need not be expensive, and good home-makers strive to make their homes attractive and comfortable. The house with a beautiful exterior and interior fully repays the occupants in satisfaction and pleasure for any effort or thought they may have invested in its improvement. I feel that no one is so indifferent to his surroundings not to get benefit and enjoyment from a well planned home. The friends of the occupants, moreover, enjoy coming to such a dwelling, and newcomers are drawn to the neighborhood by this attractive place. A fine appearance increases the value of a property. It often stimulates neighboring householders to

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE TWINS DO AN ERRAND

Scramble Squirrel and Ben Bunny left Scrub-Up Land at the same time, but when they got to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming they had to say good-bye to each other, for they lived in different directions.

You remember, don't you, that Rubadub had changed Ben's ears for Scramble's tail, and Scramble's tail for Ben's ears? When they parted, Scramble went home to his wife, Samantha Squirrel, who was fixing up their summer house in the old maple tree in the woods. And Ben went home to his

I'd like to know it, because he is so proud, he'd never come back to tell me himself."

"Goody!" cried the twins. "Green Shoes, please take us after Scramble right away, and follow him wherever he goes."

Whisk! Instantly they were lifted out of Scrub-Up Land and set down in the middle of a little green path in the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming, and right in front of them was Scramble Squirrel tearing along home as fast as he could go.

Only, if the twins hadn't known as wife, Blossom, who was doing her spring cleaning.

Just as soon as they had left, Rubadub turned to the twins. "Would you mind doing a favor for me?" he asked. "We'd love to," said Nancy at once. "Shouldn't we, Nick?"

Of course Nick said "Yes," so Rubadub explained what he wanted. "You children have your green shoes that will take you anywhere at all, so suppose you go after Scramble Squirrel and see how he gets along with Ben Bunny's ears. If he gets into trouble about him, they should never have recognized him at all, with Ben Bunny's great long ears stuck on top of his head and his tail as gone as yesterday. When he stopped at the maple tree, the children remembered the woodpecker's hole they had hid in once before in the very same tree above Mrs. Squirrel's house, so now they wished themselves in it again.

Puff! Up they went right into the snug little nest.

VILLA'S DAYS OF BANDITRY END

Has Laid Down His Arms
and Turned His Forces
Over to Revolutionists

Was Responsible for American Troops Crossing Border in 1916

JUAREZ, Mex., May 10.—Francisco Villa's days of banditry and constant menace to all attempts to establish stable government in Mexico and to the relations between this republic and the United States, are ended, according to reports reaching here. Leaders of the new revolution displayed visible relief today at the announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and turned his men over to Gen. Ignacio Narvaez, revolutionary commander of the Chihuahua district.

Since the revolution swept out of Sonora with increasing momentum what Villa would do or what would be done with him, had been a source of much speculation.

The announcement that Villa had laid down his arms and guided his followers into the ranks of the revolutionists came from Gen. Escobar, commander of Juarez. Villa also notified the Mexican Central railway. Escobar said that guards of soldiers no longer would be necessary on trains.

Villa was one of President Carranza's first supporters and later one of his most troublesome enemies. He also personally was responsible for American troops crossing the border, his most serious offense against the United States probably being the famous raid on Columbus, N. M., on Mar. 9, 1915, when 17 persons were killed and several buildings burned.

It was on that occasion that the 13th cavalry gave chase to the bandit leader and killed 100 of his followers. A few days later Gen. Pershing and 4000 men marched 200 miles into the interior in pursuit of the Villa band.

MISS ZIMMERMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

SPRINGFIELD, May 10.—The trial of Miss Jennie Zimmerman, aged 18, charged with the murder of her cousin, Dr. Henry Zimmerman, in this city, Aug. 7, last year, began before Judge Nelson P. Brown in superior court today. The shooting occurred in the street. The young physician, who had just been discharged from the service and was still in his lieutenant's uniform, had been riding with two Manchester, N. H., women when the incident occurred. Miss Zimmerman approached and after a few moments conversation apart from the others, fired four shots. The doctor died instantly. Miss Zimmerman walked a short distance and collapsed. Both Dr. Zimmerman and Miss Zimmerman were well known in local Jewish circles.

INSPECT JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEMS

SEEKS DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM KELLEY

Supt. Welch of the police department has not as yet received any information as to the whereabouts of the daughter of William H. T. Kelly, now an inmate of the hospital for the criminally insane in Bridgewater. It was decided in court that Kelly shot and killed his wife in Fayette street more than 20 years ago and ever since that time he has been confined in Bridgewater.

COMMISSIONER WILL GIVE HEARINGS

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department will give hearings on the following petitions at his office in city hall on Tuesday evening, May 11:

John Sullivan, et al, sewer in 11th street.

Patrick J. Kane, et al, sewer in Hazel street for a distance of 250 ft.

James L. Dunster, et al, that Widener street from Pine to Parker street be not altered.

Wilson L. Parker et al, that Lindenwood street be accepted and cinder sidewalks laid on both sides.

Fortunate Heroux, that edgestones be laid in front of premises at 4 Bowlers street.

Forster B. Smith and Walter C. Bruce, that West Meadow road be accepted from Varnum avenue to the isolation hospital.

Pairs of Twins and 147 Sets of Triplets Born

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Births in the registration area of the United States, which covers about 53 per cent. of the country's estimated population during 1918 exceeded deaths by 31.4 per cent. Statistics for that year just completed by the census bureau show a total of 1,353,619 births in the area which is a small decrease compared with 1917, while the deaths, 1,011,629 show a slight increase. Of every 100 infants born during 1918, 10 died before reaching the age of one year, a fractional decrease over 1917.

The birth of 15,342 pairs of twins and 147 sets of triplets was reported. There were 55 cases where the birth was the 20th or more child.

BOLSHEVIK ADVANCES HOLD UP SUPPLIES

PARIS, May 10.—Russian Bolshevik forces are expected to advance in the Caucasus region and preparations have been made by Colonel William Haskell, director general of American relief in the near east, to withdraw all American supplies to a place of safety. Haskell is the base of operations in the Caucasus region, but so great has been the demand from Armenia, that comparatively small amounts of supplies have accumulated there.

Shipments of more than 1000 tons of American flour consigned to Armenia will be diverted and held in port, pending the outcome of the Bolshevik advance, according to officers of the United States Grain Corporation here.

Col. Haskell, whose force of workers consists of about 40 army officers and a number of American women, has not removed his headquarters from Batum. The personnel of the staff is scattered throughout Armenia and latest reports state they are all safe and well. If he is forced to quit Batum, Col. Haskell is expected to go to some port on the southern shore of the Black sea and continue his relief work.

WARSAW, May 10.—Ukrainian Yn-fantry joined the Poles in occupying Kiev in force late Saturday.

The mere fact that carnations sold at retail for 25 and 33 a dozen did not deter thousands of Lowell people from purchasing them Saturday and Sunday in observance of Mothers' day. Other pink and white flowers were seen in good numbers too, but carnations appeared in great abundance, worn either in honor of or in fragrant remembrance of "man's best friend."

Also, it was a glorious day to be out of doors and thousands of the city's people took advantage of the opportunity which indeed has been of rare occurrence this spring. Hundreds chose the boulevard which leads to Tyngsboro and strolled as far as the new municipal bath house, while others crowded Lakeview cars, just to get a refreshing glimpse of the sun-kissed water. Camps on nearby ponds and on both rivers, long closed through a winter of unusual severity, were re-opened and made ready for occupancy this summer.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place this morning when Mr. Antonio Garipay, a prominent business man of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garipay of Pelham, N. H., and Miss Gertrude Lebrun, a popular employee of the A. G. Pollard Co., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. A. Lebrun, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 8 o'clock by Rev. Antonio A. Amyot, O.M.I. The bride was attired in white crepe meteor and wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The witnesses were Messrs. J. B. A. Lebrun and Joseph Garipay, fathers respectively of the bride and groom. At the close of the ceremony the bride's parents, 25 Varney street, where a wedding breakfast was served by Caterer M. A. Lydon, present at the festivities being guests from Leominster, Pawtucket, R. I., Pelham, N. H., and other places. Mr. and Mrs. Garipay, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left this afternoon on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington and upon their return next Sunday they will be tendered a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Pelham. They will make their home at 253 Mammoth road.

Sundry—St. George
The marriage of Mr. Arthur Landry and Miss Alice St. George took place this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock in St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Augustin Rapin, O.M.I. The bride wore a light grey traveling suit and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Mr. Antoine St. George, while the groom's witness was Mr. Louis Landry. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 200 Perkins street, and at 10:45 o'clock the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Montreal, Quebec and Trois Rivières. Upon their return in two weeks they will make their home at 201 Perkins street.

BIRD S. MCGUIRE AND MRS. MCGUIRE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 10.—Mrs. Ruby McGuire, wife of former Congressman Bird S. McGuire of Oklahoma, left her husband to keep their home in Tulsa last summer, while she came here to visit her father, J. T. Washington.

Ridgway, a teacher in Northeast high school. When she got back, she says in a suit for alimony filed in Tulsa, she found things in a perfect, awful state. She says she found women's hair, hairpins, combs and powder-boxes, that were not hers.

She does not ask for divorce, but for the home, a division of the property and permanent alimony.

In 1915, while her husband was in congress, Mrs. McGuire was called "one of the three most beautiful women in Washington."

TEA BLOUSES NEW AURIOLE SHADE

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, May 10.—The dashing D'Arcy tea blouses are fascinating things of that new auriole color which is something between a flame and an apricot shade. It radiates dash and verve without being bizarre, and as for the blouses themselves, one sees them everywhere. Though they are called "tea blouses," they are worn with sport skirts too, and for matinee and for visiting.

At any rate, they are very fashionable. Incidentally, at the Ritz the other afternoon, I counted no less than 10, not all in auriole, but in lovely blues, greens and blacks exquisite with touches of colored embroidery and wooden beads.

VISITORS TO THE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

About 50 private telephone exchange operators in the Lowell district met at the local exchange in Appleton street this morning at 10 o'clock as the guests of Manager Charles J. Leathers and thoroughly enjoyed an inspection of the entire plant. While Mr. Leathers conducted the party through the building, heads of the various departments carefully explained the details of each and cheerfully answered a multitude of questions.

The object of the trip through the building was an attempt to increase the efficiency of service to large users and let the exchange operators see just what occurs when she puts a call through the central switchboard from her private apartment. The trip had a tendency to give the private operators a more intimate knowledge of the plant and system in vogue, it being the company's contention and belief that service will be bettered thereby.

REPUBLICANS TO SELECT CHAIRMAN

CHICAGO, May 10.—The republican national committee met here today to select a temporary chairman for the national convention June 8, and to transact other preliminary business.

The name of Senator Lodge was the only one openly spoken of in connection with the temporary chairmanship, republican leaders said.

More women were represented in a voting capacity at today's meeting than at any previous gathering of the kind in the history of either of the major political parties. Washington, Georgia, Rhode Island and North Carolina, had women representatives registered, and it was said probably one or two more would be on hand later.

To the present list of delegate, to the national convention shows 51 women will attend either as delegates or alternates.

WILL ENTERTAIN BRITISH MERCHANTS

Members of the Lowell chamber of commerce are invited to attend a luncheon at the Copley Plaza in Boston on Wednesday of this week, at which will be present a delegation of British merchants, who on that day will be the guests of the retail trade board of the Boston chamber of commerce. The luncheon is planned for 12:30 o'clock. Although the visiting merchants plan quite an extensive visit to the United States, Boston is the only New England city in their itinerary.

The visitors come here as representatives from the Drapers' chamber of commerce of the United Kingdom and with the sanction and official recognition of His Majesty's board of trade. All members of the Lowell chamber, interested in retail trade or its allied pursuits such as wholesale dry goods, cotton and woolen manufacturers, shoe manufacturers, etc., are cordially invited to attend the luncheon on Wednesday noon. Governor Calvin Coolidge will extend the official welcome of the commonwealth, while Mayor Andrew J. Peters will bring the greetings of the city.

"CAMOUFLAGED" BACKS LATEST FAD

BOSTON—Something had to be done when styles kept dropping dresses lower and lower in the back. And it fell to Adolf Boulois to solve the problem. Boulois, who has learned art, "as she really is," in many world's fashion centers, is now painting ships, or some such, in the middle of fair backs—or bare backs. It's the latest American fad.

Farmers Replace Ship Strikers

COPENHAGEN, April 27.—Danish farmers, members of co-operative societies, will man ships held in port because of the marine strike, and transport their products to American and British markets, according to a statement made by one of the leading members of the organization. "We farmers are fed up with the seamen's strike, which is ruinous to the farming industry and is damaging Denmark's financial position," he declared. The East Asiatic Co.'s fleet of oil-driven vessels has managed to keep going but all other shipping is stopped. The trades unions, officially, are not backing the strikers.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 10.—Improvement in the local bank situation, as indicated by Saturday's bank statement, contributed to the firmer tone of stocks at the opening today. The only noteworthy feature was a decline in Crude Oil, which forfeited a part of its recent substantial rally. Rains, shipwrecks, and copper shares almost entirely in the country gains which ranged from 1 to 1 1/2 points. Oils were hesitant, reflecting latest news from Mexico.

The market experienced its reversal in the first hour on further realizing profits, but improved with activity later. Oils, including Mexican, rallied sharply as a result of further advances in prices of crude and refined products. Their recovery was attended by a sharp rise in coffee, notably Brazilian. Cotton, American, American Lumber and Virginia-Carolina Chemical, Reading and Texas & Pacific continued to feature the rally. The latter, however, was accompanied by a decline in the specialties. Call money opened at last week's ruling rate of 10 per cent, and exchange on London improved.

An irregular extension of the advance occurred at midday, the oils, Reading and American Woolen showing the most activity. The latter, however, was accompanied by a decline in the specialties. Call money opened at last week's ruling rate of 10 per cent, and exchange on London improved.

A BUMPER CROP

TWO BLUEBEARDS!

One Lacks Courage—The Other Defiant

BLUEBEARD HURT

Broken by two attempts at suicide and mingling his confessions with pleas for mercy, James H. Hurlt, the Pacific coast bluebeard, lacks completely the courage to face his fate. When Hurlt guided the authorities to the spot where he had buried the body of Nina Lee Delaney, he explained that he was doing all possible to "right the wrongs he had done." He insists that an uncontrollable impulse prompted him to kill women who loved and trusted him.

Of the five women Hurlt says he has killed, the bodies of two have been found. In one respect the Parisian bluebeard, Henri Landru, and Hurlt resemble each other. Women assert that they were tender and devoted in courtship. Both Hurlt and Landru stripped their victims of their savings.

BLUEBEARD LANDRU

There is nothing of the weakness in the Parisian, Henri Landru, 11 of whose sweethearts have disappeared. He is 55 years old, bald and far from handsome, yet his account books indicate affairs with a score or more of women, whom he swindled of their savings.

In one of his villas and in a pond nearby have been found charred fragments of bone, human teeth, metal buttons and ornaments, but the prosecution has not succeeded in identifying any of these gruesome bits of evidence with any one of the numerous women who vanished after living with Landru.

"I am a swindler," Landru has said.

"and love is my business, but if I am to be ceased of making way with women, why not credit me with 100, or at least a round dozen?" He sleeps soundly in prison and sneers at the detectives.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR FARMERS' BALL

Final arrangements for the "Farmers' ball" of the C.Y.M.L. to be held next Friday evening in Associate hall, were made at a special meeting of that organization held yesterday morning in the Ixeyan hall in Suffolk street. Reports from various committees in charge of the affair indicated that it would be one of the most successful yet conducted. Prizes for winners in the grand march competition are on display downtown and a large number of entries have been received for this feature of the program. This usual street parade, preceding the ball, will be held and the usual rural char-
